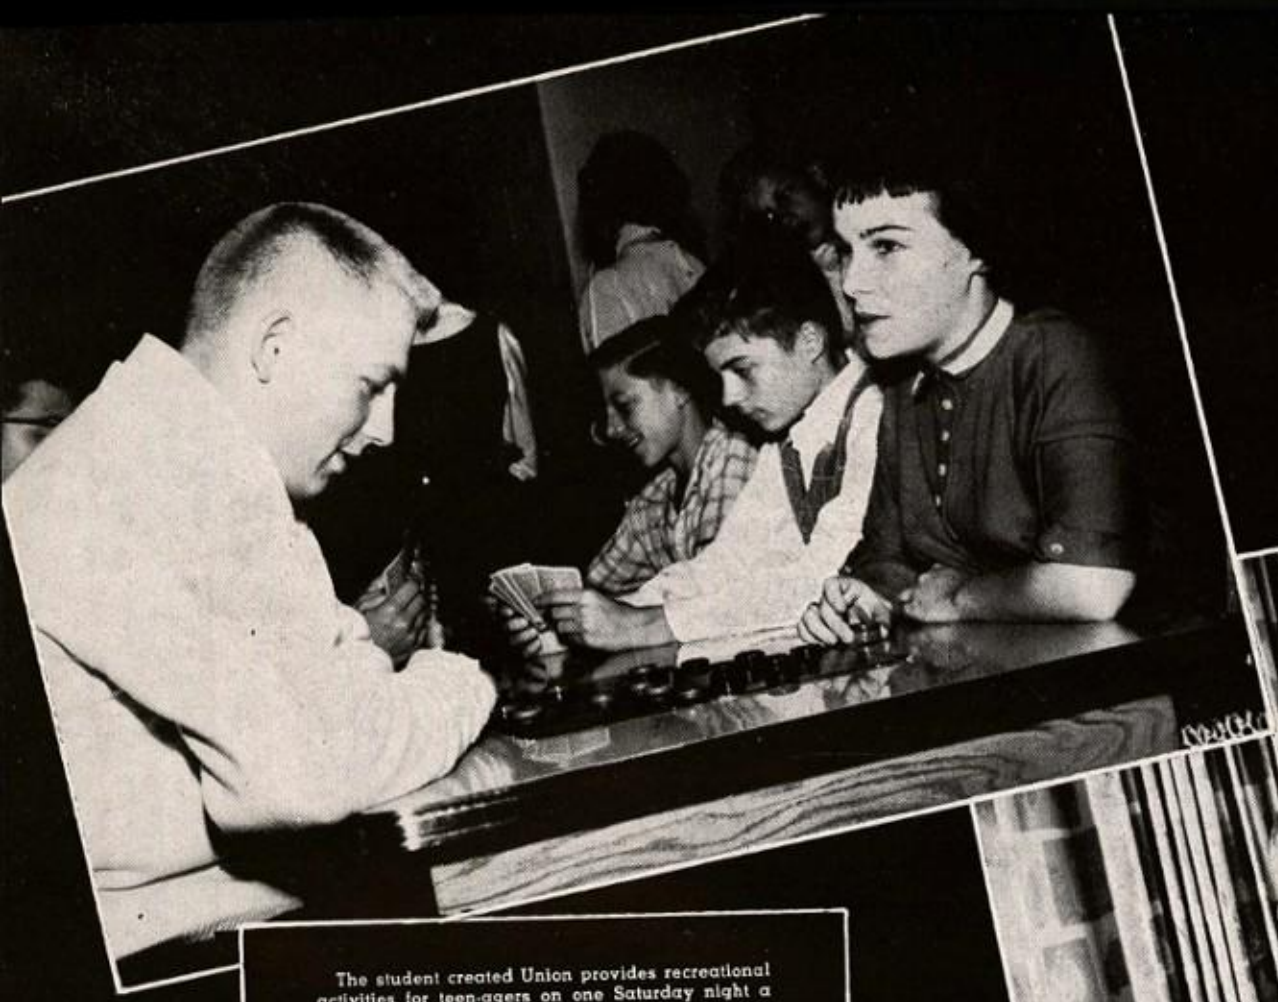
Niles Township, the fastest growing

LAKE MICHIGAN

community on the North Shore...

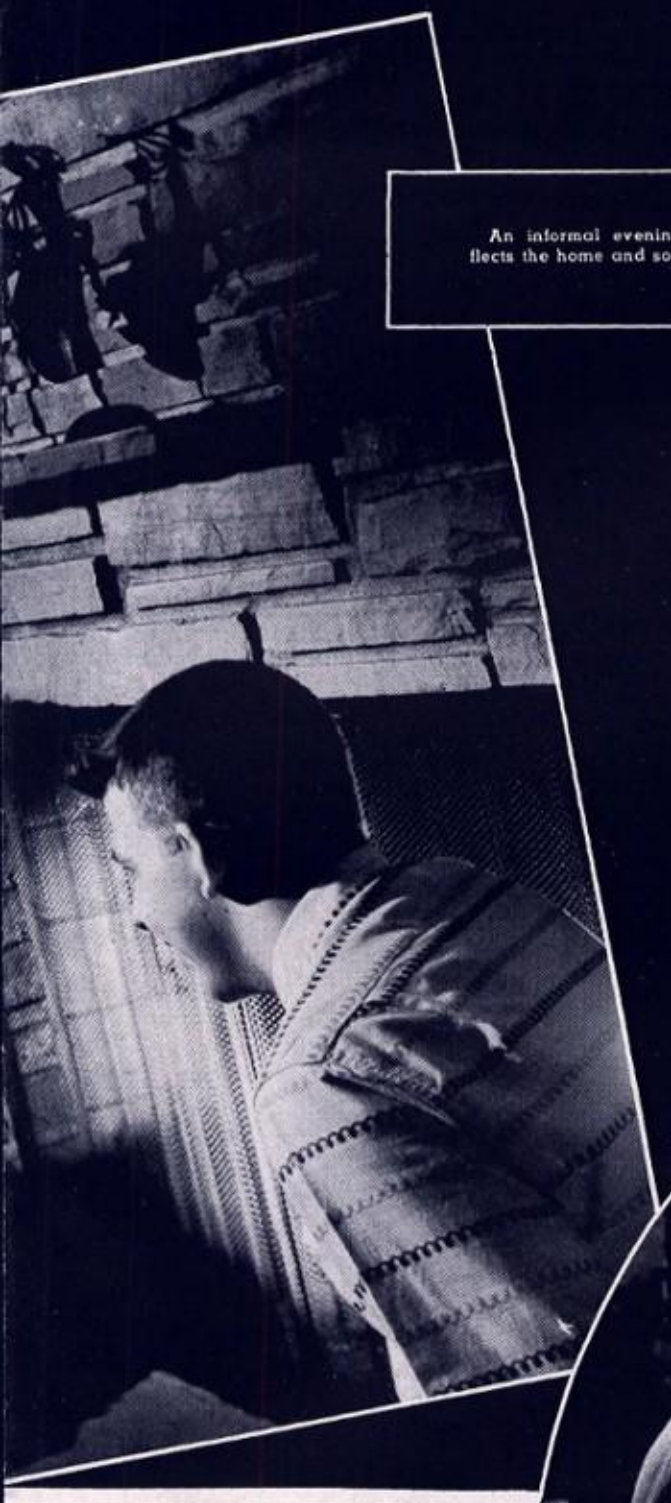
Since 1935, the population of Niles Township has grown from approximately 11,000 people to the present 45,000. What was once miles of hayfields is now an area of new homes, industries, and shopping centers. A small, quiet, rural trade center which has developed into a suburban community offering unlimited opportunities to us, its youth—this is Niles Township!



The student created Union provides recreational activities for teen-agers on one Saturday night a month.

. . . Offers Unlimited Opportunities . . .

Moving into the Niles Township area, our families find a pleasant suburban life, away from the city's older and more crowded conditions. We, the youth, find endless opportunities for happy living, education, and employment in modern industries. Here is an ideal community—a community in which we young Americans are rapidly finding our place.



An informal evening around the fireplace reflects the home and social life of students at Niles.

More than one hundred modern industries give full and part time employment to Niles Township youth.

. . . Modern School Facilities . . .

In 1937, when ground was broken for a new high school for Niles Township, few present foresaw that the school would expand to include two new wings. At the time the doors of the school first opened, citizens of the township doubted that the many rooms would ever be put to use. Today, however, not only is every room in the school occupied every hour of the day, but the cafeteria and library are used as study halls.

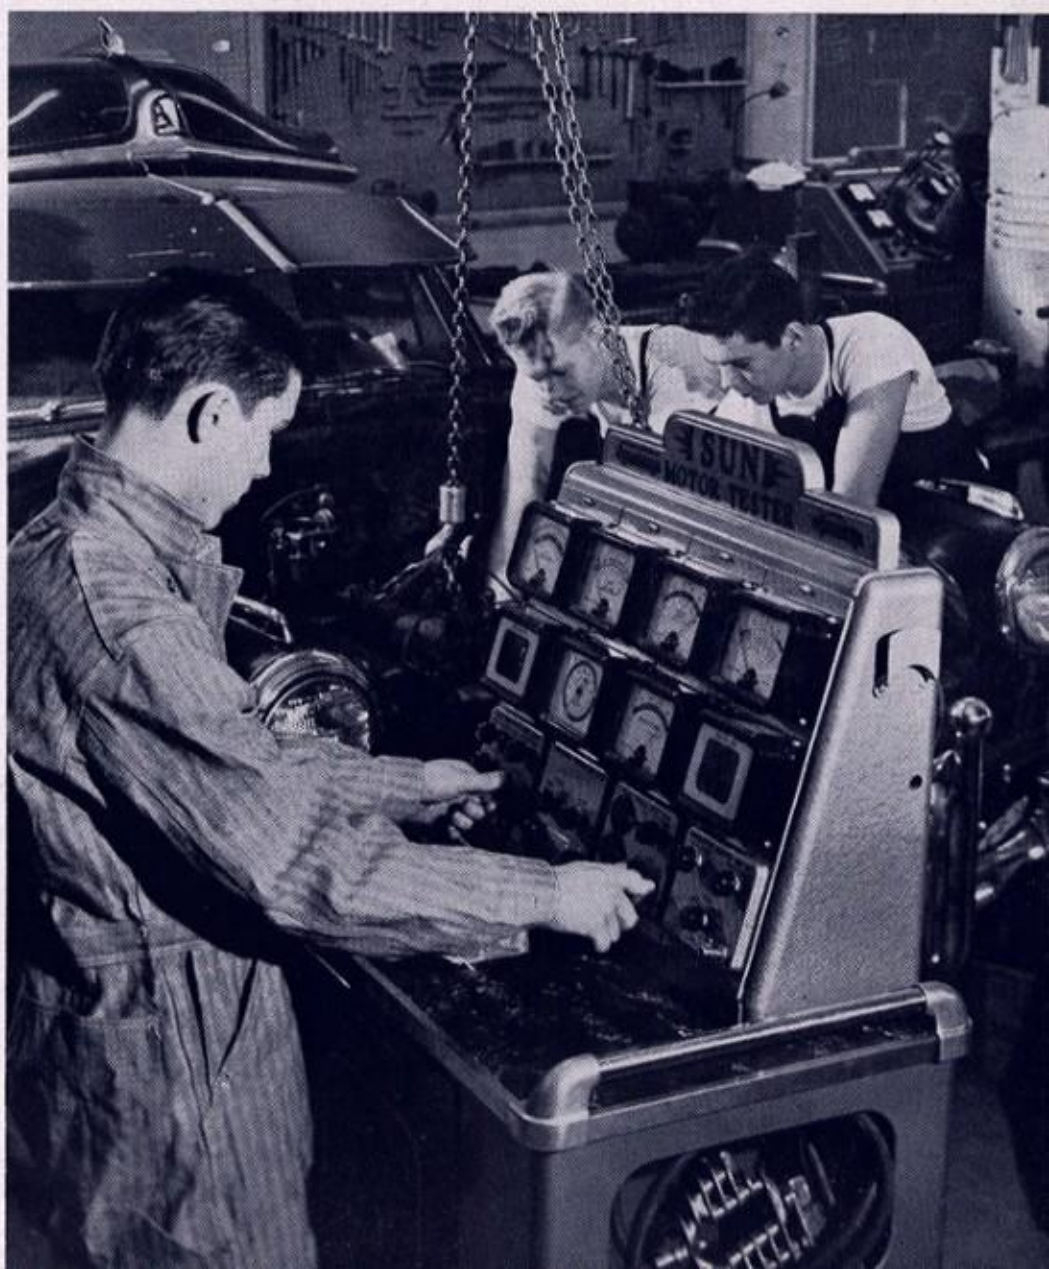
The wing opened for use last fall, the first of two planned additions on the present site, provides us, the students of Nilehi, with the most modern facilities and equipment for applying the theory gained through textbooks. Girls enrolled in the home economics courses no longer find themselves "slaving over a hot stove" or struggling with old-fashioned sewing machines as their mothers once did. The latest equipment, including a new valve grinding machine, metal lathe, and a camera for offset printing are available to those who have classes in the auto shop, metal shop, and print shop.

Because of the ever rising enrollment, however, this wing is but the first step in a long range building program. The third floor of this addition, which will include classrooms and a study hall to be ready for occupancy in September, 1955, was begun ni December. In the spring of this year, contracts were let for a wing to extend north and east, which will provide facilities for print shop, wood shop, electric shop, mechanical drawing, social studies, and business-education classes.

Since the completion of these two additions will provide for only 2,000 students and since the enrollment is expected to reach 1,900 by next fall, even these facilities will be inadequate. Therefore, the next step in our school's expansion program will be a new high-school building for Niles Township.

Steel beams, cement blocks, and construction equipment are a familiar sight as the school builds to provide for its increasing enrollment.

Modern equipment helps boys enrolled in auto shop to learn through experience.



Each year finds an ever increasing crowd of Nilehiers gathered on the front steps on that dreaded, but looked-forward-to day—the first day of school.

Every day is registration day at Niles. Mr. Ihne helps a mid-term transfer make out her program.

. . . for 6,600 Students by 1962

And still they come . . .

Our school, which has grown from a student body of 450 in 1937 to its present total of 1,500 students, expects to enroll 1,900 by next fall. Dr. Claude Reavis of the University of Chicago, in a study undertaken for the elementary schools as well as the high school, predicts an enrollment of 5,300 to 6,600 by 1962 on the basis of children already in the district.

In seven years, then, Niles will move from its position as the second smallest suburban league high school to that of the largest. Returning graduates of the next four years, seeing the masses of students and the new buildings, will feel "you can't go home again." And yet, for all the physical changes, some things will always be the same — the crowd discussing weekend plans at the locker, the mad dash to class before the five-minute bell, and the rush to after-school meetings, all of which add to the excitement in the air. Above all, the same friendly "hi" will still be heard throughout the halls.

A Growing Administration and Faculty . . .

OFFER GUIDANCE AND INSTRUCTION

Despite the pressures of our ever increasing student body, Dr. Mason and our teachers strive to meet the needs of each of us. Conferences between our homeroom teachers and parents provide opportunities for educational, vocational, and personal guidance to help us and our families better understand our abilities and interests.

The varied curriculum provides opportunities for the development of these different abilities and interests. Variety of subject offerings, however, is not allowed to substitute for the basic learnings approved by tradition; consequently, of the thirty-two required credits, sixteen must be gained in the fields of English, science, mathematics, and history. Furthermore, our choice of electives is so planned that, on the completion of four year's work, our knowledge and skills will have been developed in a pattern suitable to our abilities and post-graduate plans.

To achieve these educational goals, the faculty has expanded to keep pace with the increasing number of students. Of the seventy-five members of the staff, fifteen were hired this year, six as replacements and nine as additions, thereby injecting new ideas and vitality into the life stream of the school.

This, then, is Nilehi—a school changing, growing in its student body, faculty, and physical plant, yet remaining constant to its ideal of helping each of us build the best possible life for tomorrow!

. . . Our Community Leaders Plan for the Future . . .

The people of our township express their will concerning the school through a seven-man Board of Education. These men, whose integrity and good judgment is respected by the entire community, advise without dictating and direct without dominating in the formation and execution of policies concerning our school.

The present board, which has expanded from four to seven members, faces the problem of reconciling the cost of more space for the increasing enrollment to the financial ability of the community. In June the people will be asked to express their approval of another high school by voting the funds necessary for such a program.

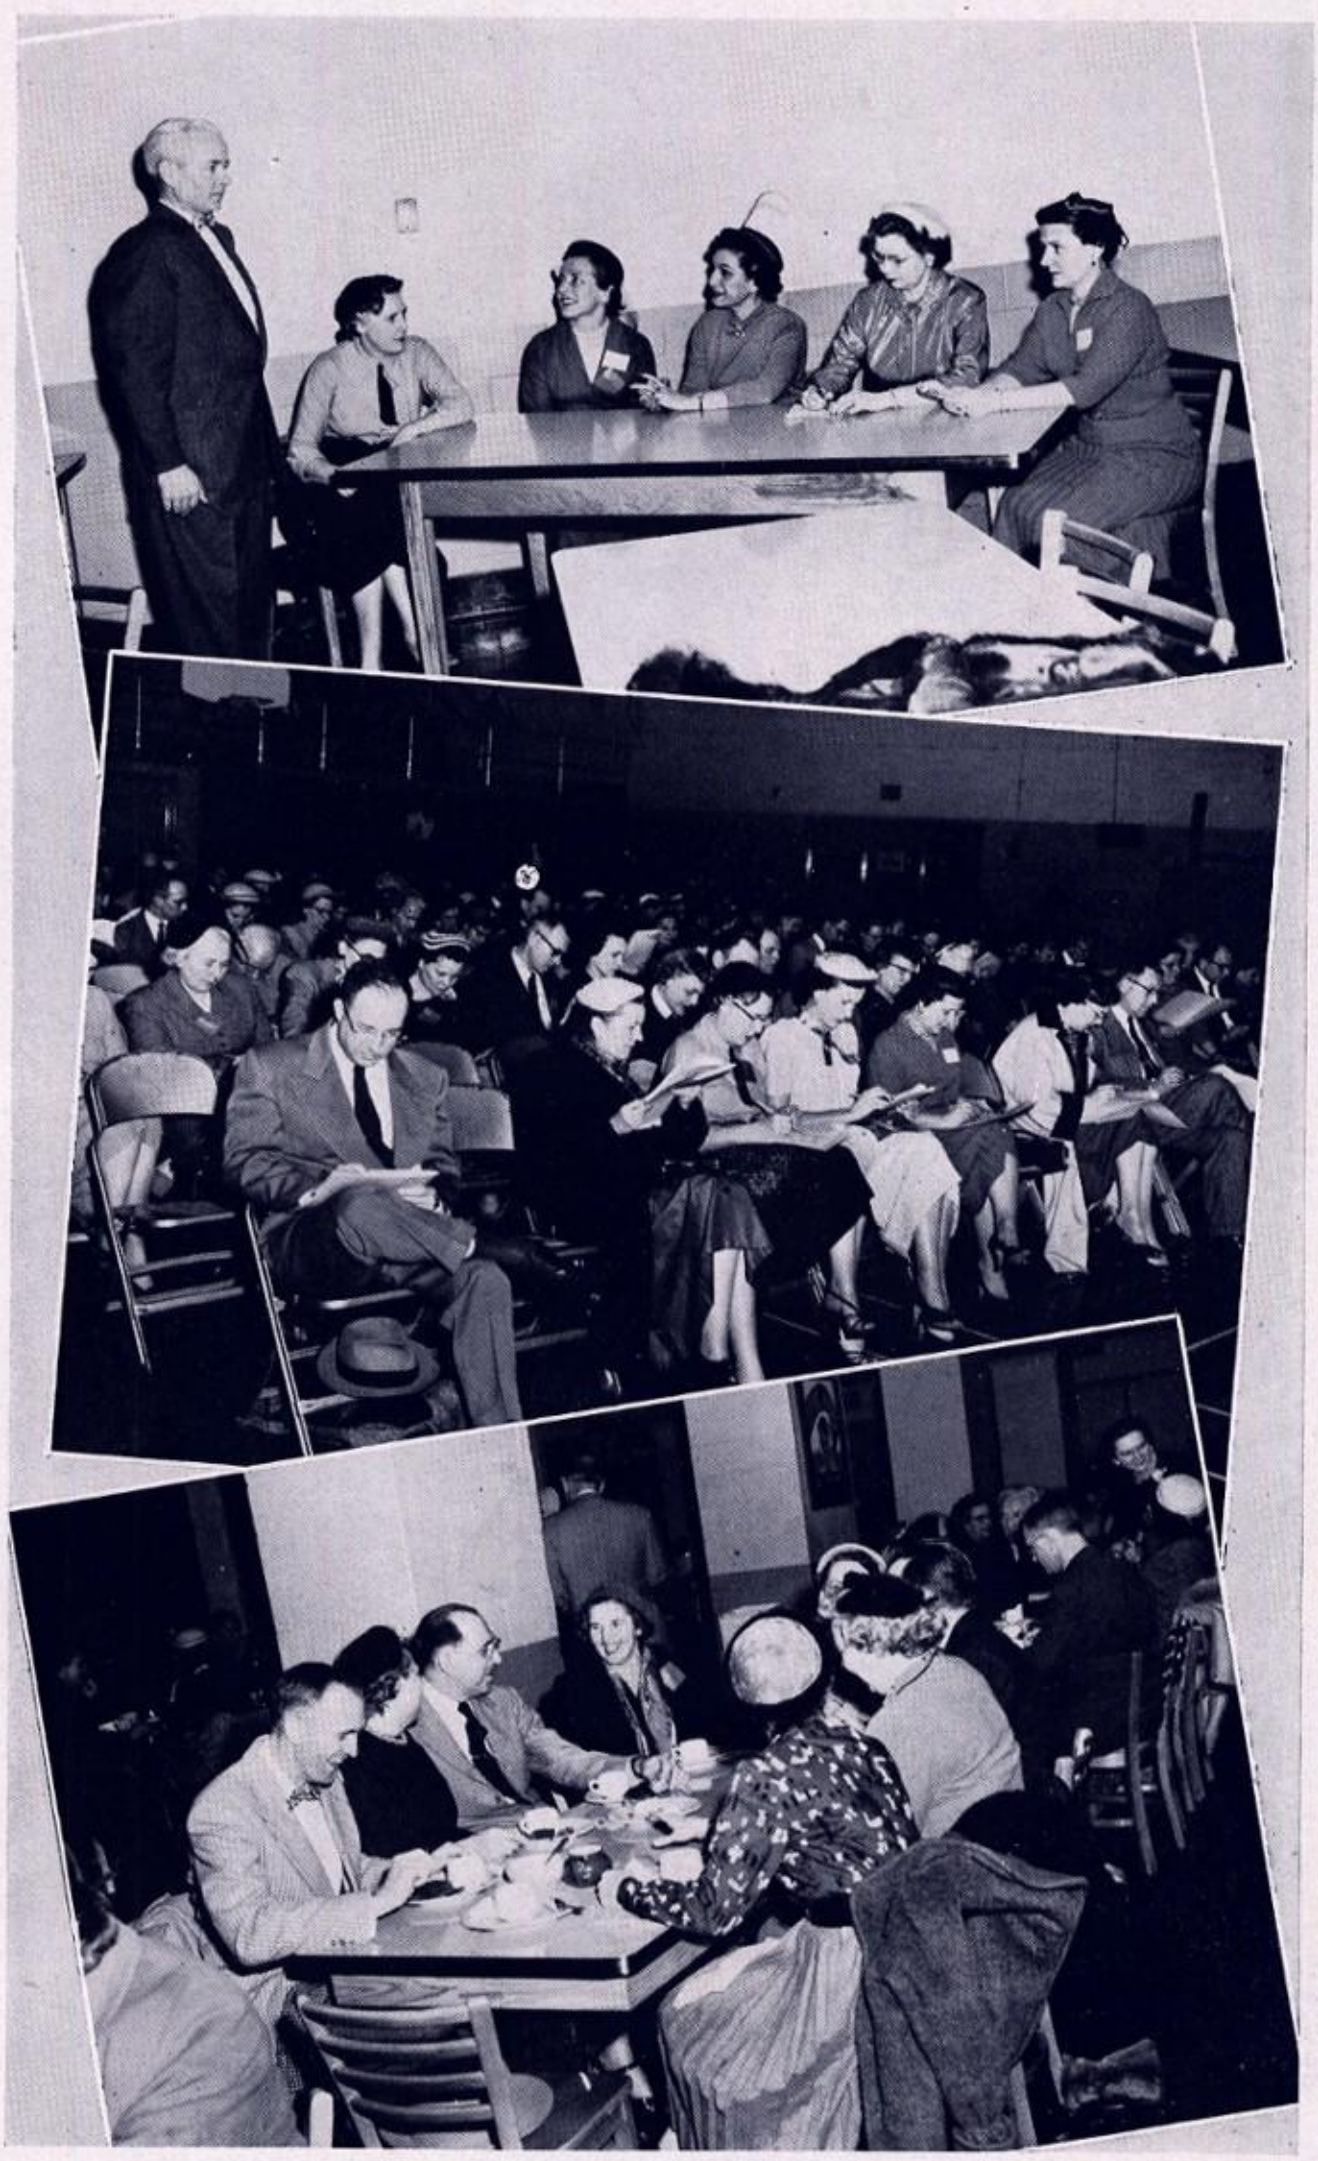
While Parents Play an Active Role . . .

The Parent-Teacher Association, which meets the third Thursday of each month, brings our parents into closer contact with school activities and teachers. This year for the first time a monthly paper, the Nile-A-Gram, was sent to all parents to keep them informed not only of programs for the monthly meeting, but also of future school events and general facts of interest.

Selling refreshments at football games, entertaining faculty families and school board members at a buffet dinner were social activities organized this year under the direction of Mrs. Weissburg, president. For the first time since its organization in 1951, the P.T.A. gave a farewell party for the parents of graduates.

This year a Booster Club was organized to increase attendance at athletic events and give support to the players. The Boosters have also taken over the custom of serving refreshments for football and basketball players after the games.



P.T.A. officers for 1954-55 are Mr. K. Stevens, first vice-president in charge of programs; Mrs. A. Bolt, second vice-president in charge of the P.T.A. newspaper, the Nile-A-Gram; Mrs. R. White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. Weissburg, president; Mrs. D. Ames, recording secretary, and Mrs. H. Walters, treasurer.

Mom and Dad get a taste of what students go through during an Educational Development Testing Program.

YET FINDS TIME TO

BE FRIENDLY WITH

EVERY STUDENT

"Superintendent" is Webster's very simple word for the complex operation of "overseeing or directing some work, enterprise or institution." Dr. Mason knows from experience how inadequately this word describes the many roles he plays. He has the responsibility of "overseeing" a school program to meet the needs of each of us, of providing leadership and direction for a faculty dedicated to the carrying out of this program, of interpreting the needs of the community in whose service the school finds its reasons for being. Moreover, he is active in civic and educational organizations; he is president of the Rotary Club, president of the Illinois Association of School Administrators, and a member of the Governor's Committee on Education, a subsidiary of President Eisenhower's Committee on Education. And yet Dr. Mason is one of us, a man whose warm greeting is known even to the freshmen.

Dr. Mason, architects Edwin Bruno and Thomas Higgins, and Miss Helen Johanns study blueprints for the new north wing.

From his office window, Dr. Mason watches the progress of the third-floor addition to the new wing.

Advisers Offer Guidance and Counseling

Our advisers are very important people with the authority and responsibilities of an assistant principal. Pink passes, temporary admits, worthy-in-advance absences, help with our class activities, curricular and otherwise, a shoulder to weep on when we need it, and strong words of advice when we're banished from class are all to be had in those offices at the end of the first floor!

Besides making life smoother for us, the advisers act as leaders of the homeroom teachers of their class assignment, belong to the administrative council, and represent the school in all matters of concern to parents.

Harold Ohlson, senior adviser, confers with students in regard to post-graduate plans. College-bound seniors are given the opportunity to interview representatives of various colleges while career interested students talk to representatives of different industries.

Dr. Lyman Smith and Aune Toivola, freshman advisers, are concerned with the testing and orientation of incoming students.

Margaret de Booy is in charge of such all school services as academic placement research, student activities calendar, scholarship information, and teacher and nurse's training information.

Blanche Suchy, our school nurse, besides keeping an eye on the health of Nilehi students, supervises the annual X-ray program and is in charge of the sight and hearing tests.

Have you ever tried to keep track of 20,000 books? Well, that's the job of Mary Walker, librarian.

Walter Duda, visiting counselor, is concerned with the needs of individual students. Whether the problems are school, home, or social in nature, Mr. Duda helps us find an answer.

Our School Nurse, Librarian, and Visiting Counselor Devote Time to Special Services.

Adventures
in ENGLISH LITERATURE

"Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble." The witches of MacBeth haunt senior Pat Schoonover as she studies the plays of Shakespeare.

Through the English Department, We Learn Readin', Ritin'. . .

English studies help us to achieve the highest development of our individual personality. We deepen our understanding of ourselves and others and of the world of today and yesterday through an analysis of the great ideas of literature. We become more aware of the beauty and power of language as a tool for communicating our thoughts to others more vividly and accurately. Reading, speech, writing—the improvement of skills in these areas makes each of us, personally, more interesting, charming, and effectual and so, more successful in our relationships with others.

"How do I sound to others?" Speech students Carol Larsen and Leroy Zender record their voices to find out.

. . . and Through the Math Department . . . 'Rithmetic

Mathematics is the language of quantitative thinking. The geometric beauty of every snowflake that falls is witness of its art. By skillful use of the symbols and techniques of mathematics, we solve the problems of labor, industry, and science. When these symbols and techniques become cumbersome and inadequate, man devises another mathematics as he discovers more of the mysteries of the universe about him.

In this complex world, a knowledge of mathematics is essential to work out the tough problems of science, to produce new and wonderful materials, to design new machines for industry. We need math for such occupations as tool and die makers, draftsmen, machinists, and airplane pilots. Even those of us who do not need mathematics for our business life find it a great help in solving the problems of everyday living because it develops in us the power to think logically and accurately.

Through Science We Learn to Understand . . .

The Pasteurs and Edisons of tomorrow are developed in our classrooms today. Through the study of science, we gain an appreciation of man's ageless struggle for truth by increasing our understanding of the complexity of elements found in nature and of the order of the universe.

In addition, the scientific method, applied in laboratory and classroom courses, develops our reasoning powers and prepares us to think clearly about personal and business problems.

Through Social Studies, We Learn To Be Better Citizens . . .

To be a good citizen tomorrow one must build to be a better citizen today. As we progress in social studies from the freshman to the senior level, we are made aware of our relationship to the social groups of which we are a part.

We learn that it is our responsibility to maintain Nilehi's traditions and good reputation. We become acquainted with our community, the services offered, and the protection provided through laws passed for the good of the many. We study the state and federal government and trace the development of our country with its heritage of freedom and equal rights. Finally, through the study of the history of other countries, we achieve a better understanding of the world in which we live.

Business Education Prepares Us for the Business World . . .

Since we live so near the great industrial center of Chicago with its job opportunities, our business-education department strives to develop vocational competency in bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, and office procedures.

These specific skills, however, are only part of our over-all development. We learn, also, general business information that we will need not only as workers but as consumers in our modern economic system. From this study we acquire a better understanding of our relationship to our modern economic society.

"Maybe we should get a few pointers from the salesman who sold you that tie!" remarks Ken Sartini to Bill McFarlane as they use the silk screen process in advertising.

Home Economics Courses Teach Girls to be Better Homemakers . . .

Future homemakers receive training today at Niles in well-equipped laboratories comparable to the most modern homes. A broad program for family living is offered to those of us who are looking forward to establishing homes of our own.

In the home-economics department ,emphasis is placed on the provision of food for the family. We learn the various aspects of planning, buying, preparation, serving, conservation, and storage in six kitchen units provided with the latest equipment. A beautiful living-dining area is used to give experience in entertaining so that even the shyest girls become gracious hostesses.

In clothing, problems of selection, care, construction, assembling accessories, and wearing an ensemble are a vital part of our program. The clothing laboratory, with its late model sewing machines, triple-mirrored fitting room, attractive social area, and large show cases, provides the ideal setting for learning.

Homemaking, with its emphasis on selecting furnishings and equipment for the home together with providing for the health and care of its members, is education for living.

Beware, Christion Dior! Margie Rask and Karen Perrin demonstrate that a Nilehi-created fashion receives the careful fitting of a Paris design.

Laboratories and Shops Give Boys Practical Experience . . .

Industrial education courses at Nilehi include industrial arts laboratories, unit shops, and co-operative vocational training, which provide us an opportunity for comprehensive development in both general, non-specialized, and specialized education.

We are being trained for living in a democratic society. We are developing desirable attitudes, acquiring knowledges, developing mental and manipulative skills, and preparing for advantageous entrance into many fields of work. We believe that the achievement of these objectives is an essential part of our learning to make adjustments to life and contributions to the society in which we live.

Through Fine Arts, We Learn to Appreciate . .

Through the study of the fine arts, we gain in our ability to express ourselves in art, music, and drama. By developing our interests and talents we are prepared to make more satisfying and worthwhile use of our leisure time. Working together in music and drama, we experience a feeling of unity and group accomplishment which develops an insight into human reactions and relationships.

Furthermore, through the study of art, music, and drama, we increase our ability to understand, judge, and appreciate the culture of society, past and present, native and foreign. In this day of international crisis, we believe that the music, drama, and art of a country reveal the way of life of its people as no other media do. Such an insight on a global scale is one road toward that closer fellowship between the peoples of the world upon which our future civilization depends.

The drama workshop is in "full swing" as acting enthusiasts Bob Martin, Ron Shabel, Dennis Moore, Lynn Watson, and Kathy Krause learn to build and paint scenery.

Through Foreign Languages We Discover the Customs of Other Nations . . .

A challenge is offered to the students of foreign language—the challenge of discovering an entirely new country and its people. A study of the romance, culture and customs of a foreign people promotes a deeper understanding and tolerance between races.

Through our language study we are given the satisfaction of being prepared to read, in the original, the writings of great men of other nations. We find that "we are there"—in Spain, France, Germany, or ancient Rome—discovering for ourselves the events of time past or places far away.

Furthermore, the pleasure of travel is heightened by the ability to speak a foreign language and by the knowledge of the culture of a race. This year, for the first time, students of Spanish journeyed to Mexico City during spring vacation where they improved their accents by conversation with the natives.

"C'est la belle France!" explains French student Claudia Joslyn to her class.

Physical Education Classes Keep Us Physically Fit . . .

In our physical education classes we coordinate mind and body. Here we develop the physical strength required to keep our bodies functioning properly. Time spent in tumbling, apparatus work, and exercises accomplishes this.

Besides developing our bodies, individual and team sports such as tennis, archery, badminton, swimming, basketball, volleyball, softball, touch football, soccer, and field hockey are learned so that we can enjoy our recreational hours. Dance in its varied forms increases our poise.

Through competing cooperatively, we learn the importance of the individual as a member of a team. Sportsmanship is stressed and leadership opportunities are provided.

Our Main Office Buzzes With Activity . .

"When is the bell going to ring?"
"I've forgotten my locker combination!"

Although busy keeping the complex organization of Nilehi running smoothly — getting out payrolls, keeping records of expenditures, preparing handbooks, mailing report cards—our efficient staff still finds an extra minute to iron out the problems of teachers and students.

Like the rest of Nilehi, the office is expanding with six new members added this year. In December, the office was remodeled to provide increased space and greater efficiency.

More tests! Jeanne Burghard and Betty Johnson, secretaries, run the ditto in the main office.

Helen Snyder, receptionist and switchboard operator, takes care of all problems, ranging from lost books to important calls for Dr. Mason.

Madeline Young, assistant to the librarian, finds that shelving books is a job that's never done.

Pausing during an office conference are Theresa Schweitzer, bookkeeper. Florence Keppeler, registrar, and Ann Bradley, activity account keeper.

These Workers Keep Our School In Top Condition

Martha Wheat, matron, checks on Eileen Corr's tank suit after swimming class.

Behind the scenes, after the student's day is done, Johanna Einarsen, Martha Cordall, and Margaret Henning clean the classrooms and halls for another day.

Preparing for the time when fifteen-hundred famished students will swarm into the cafeteria to see "what's cookin'" are Esther Fountaine, Marie Hudson, Emily Mussil, Ebba McNeill, Frances Garner, and Irene Steek.

Days Rush By . . .

Suddenly We're Seniors!

Eight o'clock and the bell rings . . . the clocks are wrong again! We make a mad dash through the halls (knocking every third person on the floor), and finally reach our destination—homeroom. Crawling to our seats, we make futile attempts to avoid a detention. The P.A. whispers something after a xylophone solo and closes with an encore. We try to do some homework but never get much done because we spend the whole ten minutes worrying about all we have to do before second period.

Between classes we run the four-minute mile with a minute to recuperate, and then another course commences. After the usual "Calm down!", "The bell rang", and "Quiet", we begin working—or at least—stop talking.

Around fourth period, every time we talk we get an answer from our stomachs. Lunch time zooms by . . . we sometimes have time to eat! The day drags on . . . "Memorize fifty lines of Shakespeare" . . . "Test tomorrow!" . . . "Read the next twenty pages." . . . Do this . . . Do that . . .

Finally, the day over (unless we have a detention), we rush to comb our hair for the first time since 8:10. And then, time on our hands . . . until tomorrow!

Our Senior Year . . .

Leading the six senior homerooms through that all-important last year is the elected Senior Cabinet. . . . Take Part In School Life

We Become a Part of Nilehi . . .

Grade school was never like this! Where do we go? It's lucky the upper classmen aren't here our first day, or we'd never find our way around!

That's funny We signed up for the same periods—wha' happened? Jim Eishen, Sue Elster, and Diane Fesselmeyer try to figure out their schedules.

Barbara Kreegier, Kitty Mueller, Carol Anderson, Donna Roberts, and Virginia Stegmeyer stretch their necks at their first assembly so they won't miss a bit of their "new" high school life.

The Frosh-Soph Mixer started the year with a bang. We got acquainted and made new friends as we took time out for a coke.

Bob Bonebrake, who leads his class scholastically, takes a quick glance at his homework assignment. Bob has been a member of the "N" Club for two years.

Who's Who
In the Class of 1955

A committee composed of the Senior Cabinet. advisers, and senior homeroom teachers selected 20 top seniors on the basis of leadership, service, character, personality, and in the case of boys, athletic ability. This list was then submitted to the senior class who voted these twelve as the leaders of the class of '55. Of the twelve, two boys were chosen for their athletic ability.

Kay Christiansen, president of the Union Board, sells cokes at one of the Unions.

Holding the Student Council Constitution in his hands is Bob Drake who, as a delegate to the Constitution Assembly in his sophomore year, helped frame the Constitution.

Fred Melberg, president of Hi-Y, holds the Hi-Y trophy awarded to him as winner of the junior boy Hi-Y Citizenship Award last year.

Nilehi football and basketball fans will recognize Anna Otiepka, cheerleader for two years.

Jim Elliott, voted one of the two star athletes, is ready to take his turn at bat during a baseball game.

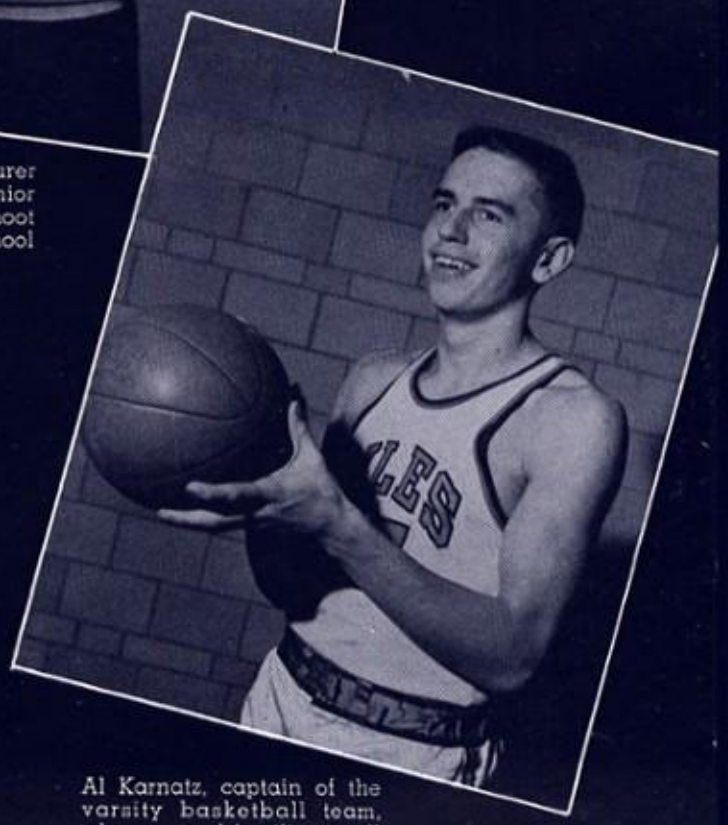
Surrounded by her swimming equipment is Carol Larson, active member of G.A.A. and Ripplettes.



Al Karnatz, captain of the varsity basketball team, takes a stand familiar to all basketball fans. He was voted one of the two star athletes.

We Look Forward to Our Traditional Activities . . .

This year we said "hardly" while last year our pet phrase was "neat"; this year we wore rope beads, last year fur collars; this year boys turned to saddles, while last year the fad was white bucks. Although this year brought new fads, new faces, new teachers, and a new building, still some things are always the same. The frantic rush to finish up a bigger and better float for Homecoming parade . . . happy voices caroling on the stairs at Christmas . . . that beaten feeling that comes when you stare at exam questions and wonder how you could have studied till 2:00 a.m. and still not know the answers . . . the excitement of standing in the wings waiting to go on stage opening night of Reflections . . . the ache of muscles and sniffles that come from living in the pool to make the Water Show an Esther Williams spectacular . . . the feeling of "Why can't the night go on forever?" as the orchestra plays "Melody of Love" at the Prom . . . the evening star that shines down on us as we start our last processional as a class . . . 1954, 1955, 1956? Our traditions of fun and fellowship go on and on.

Fall Brings the First Big Event . . .

First of the big events of the year was Homecoming, held this year on October 16. Though the wind cut our faces and numbed our fingers, it was fun riding in the morning parade through Skokie. Here at last were the pink elephant and the giant panda we thought would never be finished on time. Last minute raids on the local stores for more chicken wire, crepe paper, and paper napkins had been successful.

Afternoon found us huddling together under heavy blankets in the football stands, drinking steaming coffee as we watched our Trojans battle the Morton Mustangs. Though we were defeated, our loss didn't smother the day's excitement.

Our Homecoming day was brought to a climax by the "Huddle Up," our Homecoming dance. Sponsored by the Senior Class, the dance, with its huge mirrored football rotating in the center of the floor, was a success. All too soon the orchestra played "Goodnight Sweetheart," and Homecoming '54 was just another memory.

Pausing between dances, couples attending the "Huddle Up" admire the huge mirrored football.

The expressions on the faces of the team members and coaches reveal the outcome of the Homecoming game with Morton.

This giant pink elephant float captured first prize in the annual Homecoming day parade. Constructed of crepe paper, paper napkins, and chicken wire, the float was the work of the "N" Club.

Though the cold day found many shivering under heavy football blankets, attendance at the game with Morton was at its peak.

Gold and blue mascots, a dog named "Fight" and a cat named "Win," lead a chant at the Homecoming football game. Lynne Izard and Nancy Keppeler are the mascots this year.

Dr. Mason, Mr. Tom Kiviluoma, and Mr. Bob Moore of the Skokie News watch the halftime antics of the band and twirlers as Mr. Provost directs the band.

. . . Homecoming

The Choir, under the direction of Miss C. Klaus, performs selections from "The Messiah" at Christmas Vespers.

The Yuletide Season Brings The True Christmas Spirit to Niles . . .

Football uniforms were packed away, Thanksgiving had come and gone, and suddenly we found ourselves humming "White Christmas." The first Yuletime event of the season, Christmas Vespers, helped put us into the Christmas spirit. On Sunday afternoon, December 12, all the choral groups combined to present this impressive music program for both the students and community. Meanwhile, the juniors had transformed the halls into a Christmas wonderland. All thoughts of studying were abandoned on the last day before vacation as classroom doors were opened to the music of the carolers in the halls. At the end of the day, homerooms became the scene of grab bags, refreshments, and singing. Christmas vacation had come at last, highlighted by "Mistletoe Magic," the annual Christmas dance. When the clock struck twelve, we rushed to our cars with "Merry Christmas" ringing through the cold night air. Then came vacation, parties, last minute shopping, sleep, and December 25!

Alumnus Jon Stromberg (left) looks forward to meeting old friends at "Mistletoe Magic." Accompanying him are Barb Larsen, and Ken Larsen and his guest.

Our Vespers audience join the choral students in singing "Hark The Herald Angels Sing" during the Yuletide program.

Floyd Burns, Sandy Johnson, Sue Marsh, and Bob Godell wait in line for their bids at the evergreen-covered entrance to "Mistletoe Magic."

Exams Over, Faculty and "N" Club Fight It Out . . .

Dr. "Bad Boy" Ryden applies for the job of Nilehi ballet instructor in a faculty-given skit during intermission.

That old phrase "Kill the referee" comes to life! N-men and faculty really give Ref Hank Feuerzeig a hard time.

The Board of Education interviews job-hunting Leo Provost in the faculty skit. From the looks of things he might even get the job!

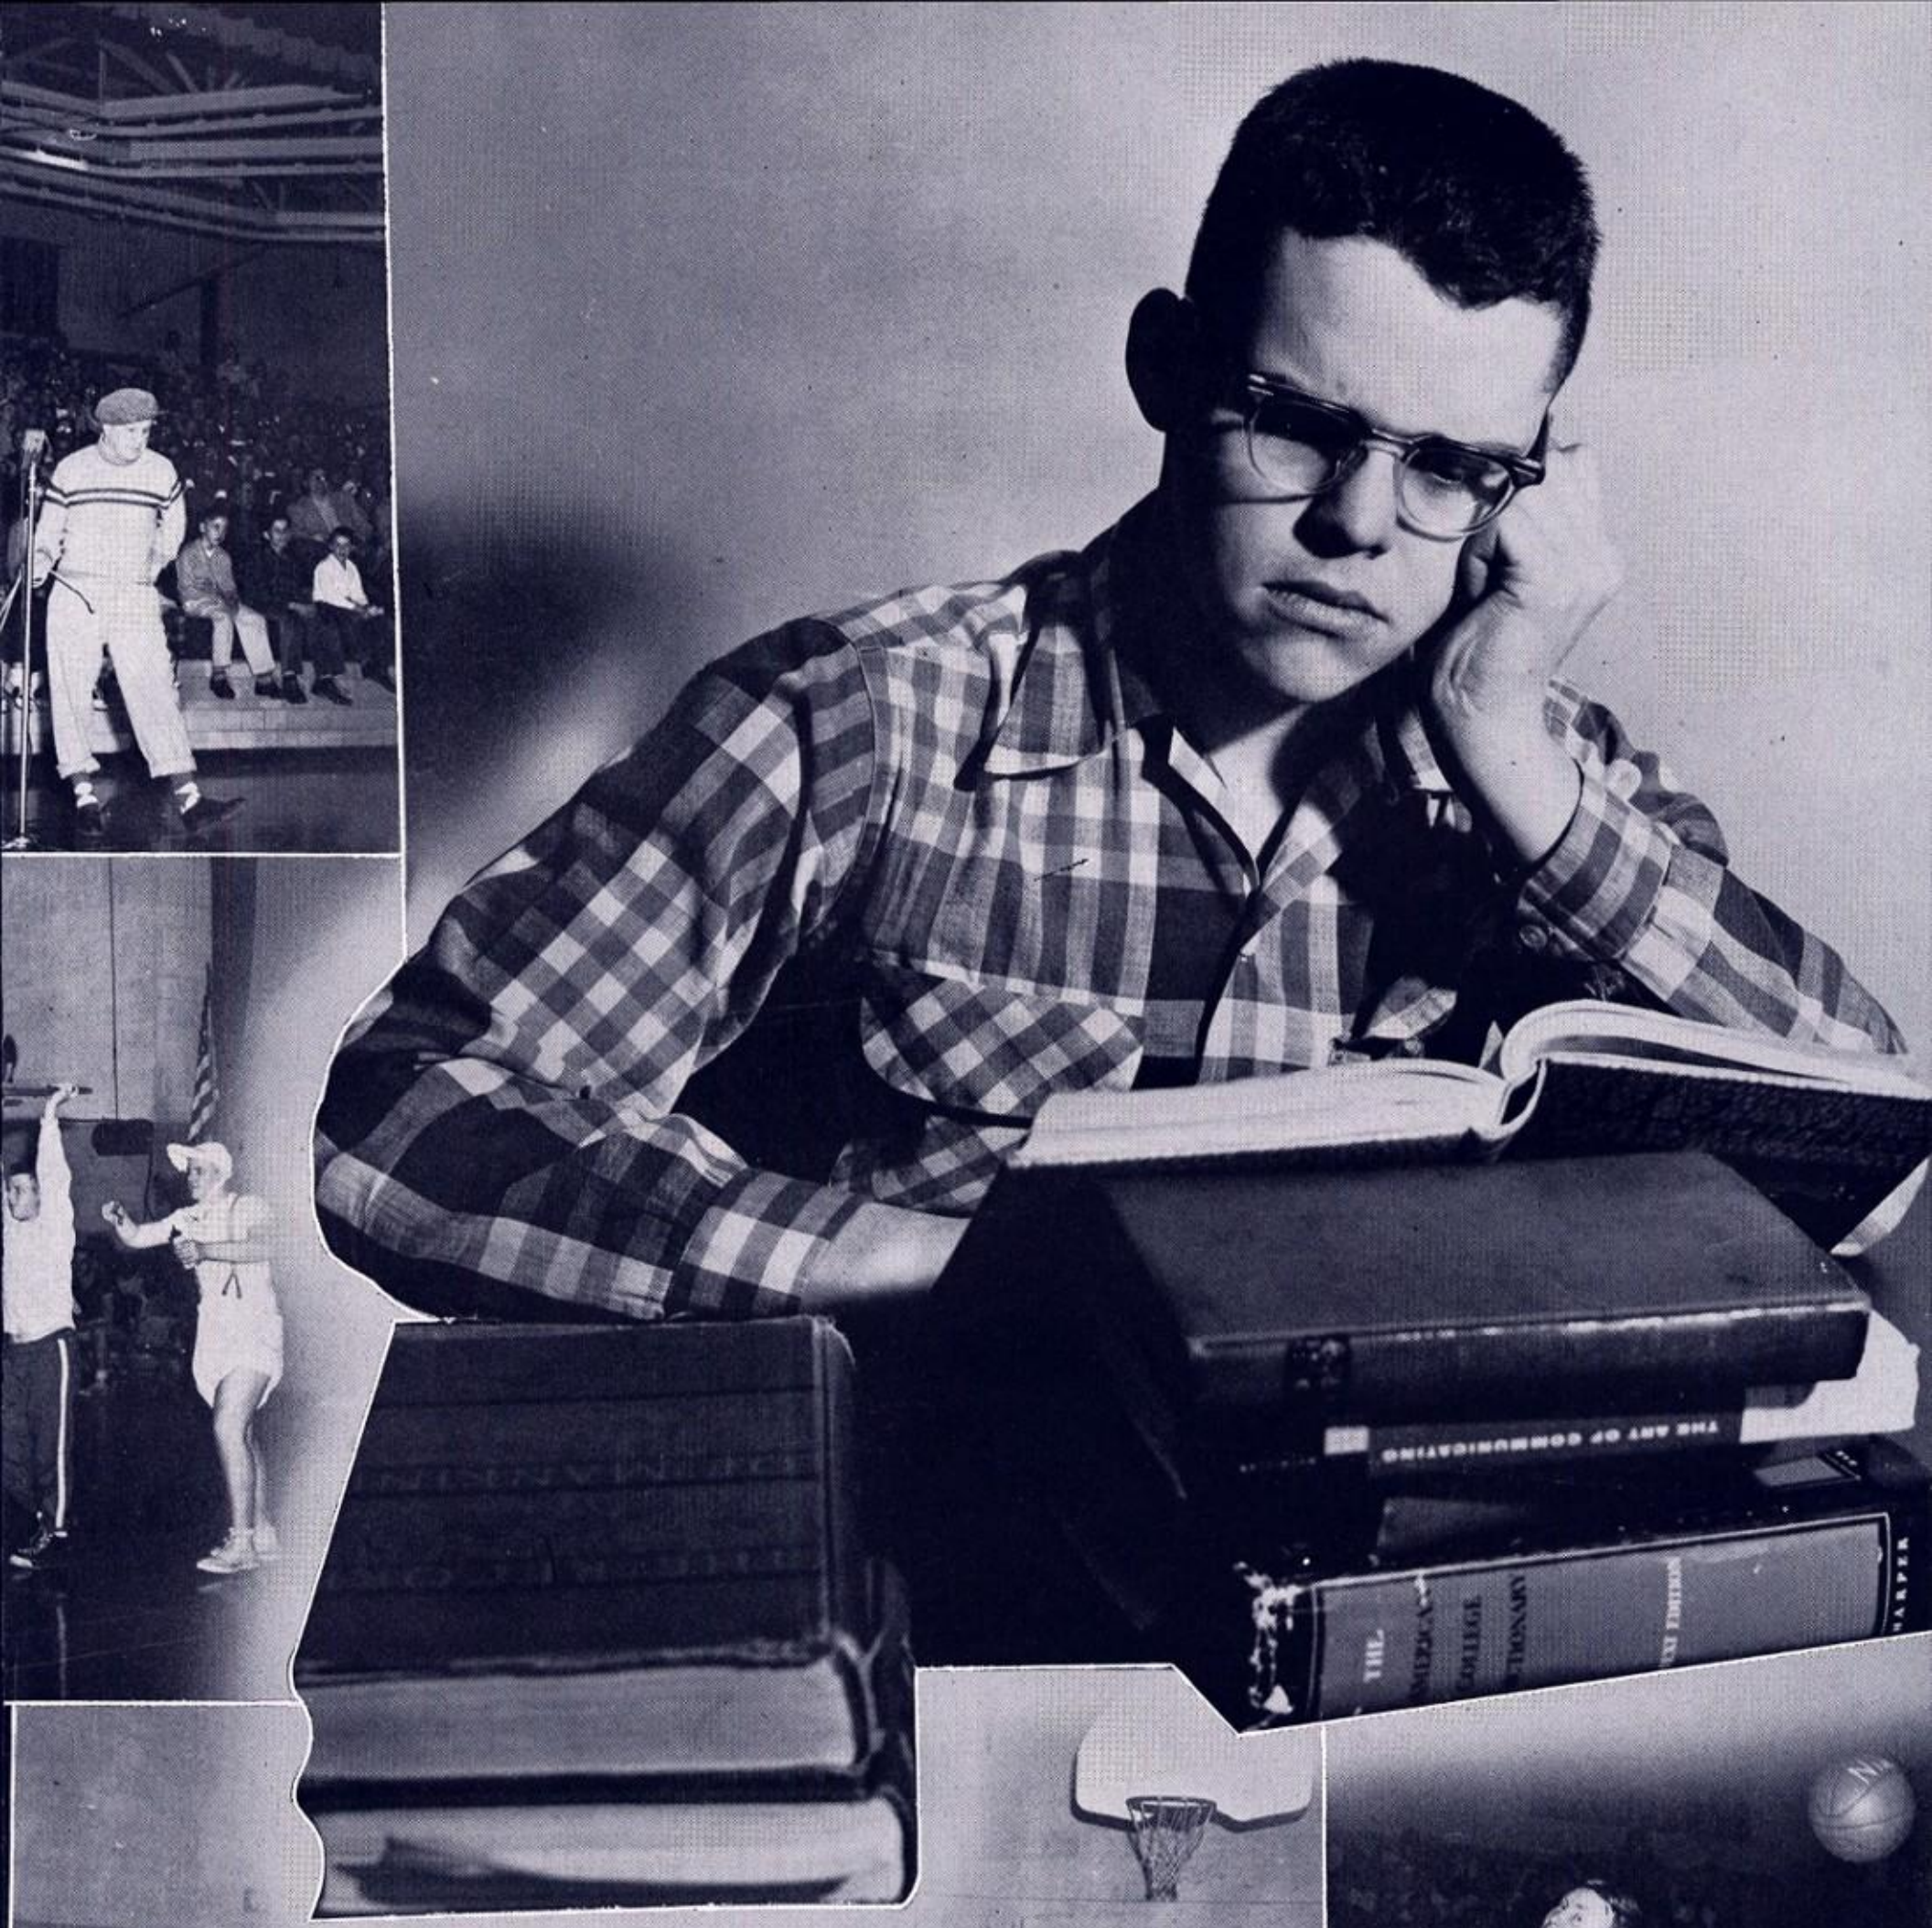
Dr. L. Smith, Mr. A. Schubert, Mr. J. Sheahan, Mr. J. Phipps, Mr. G. Wesley, Mr. B. Welch, Mr. J. Mason, Mr. D. Murphy, Mr. M. Basrak, Mr. J. Lain, and Mr. H. Byram, the faculty team, line up in complete costume just before game time.

Here's where we separate the men from the boys! Paul Granquist, Mr. John Harmon, and Fred Melberg scramble for a loose ball during the closing minutes of the "N" Club-Faculty game.

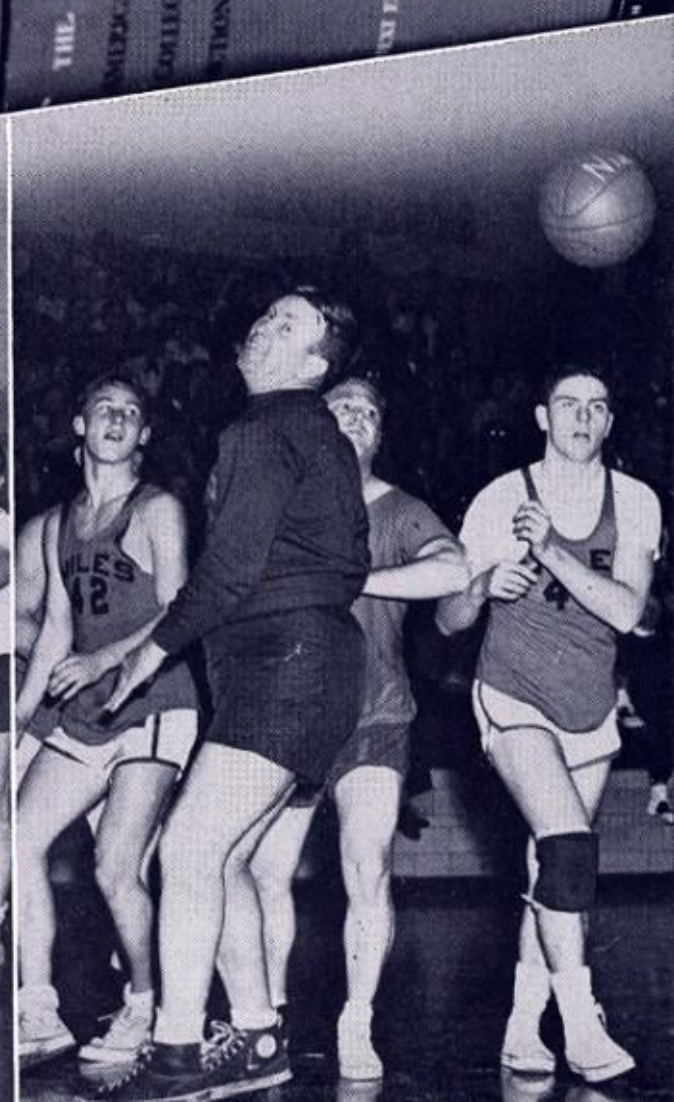
Gary Uhlir "bones up" for semester exams, students' "D—for dread—Day."

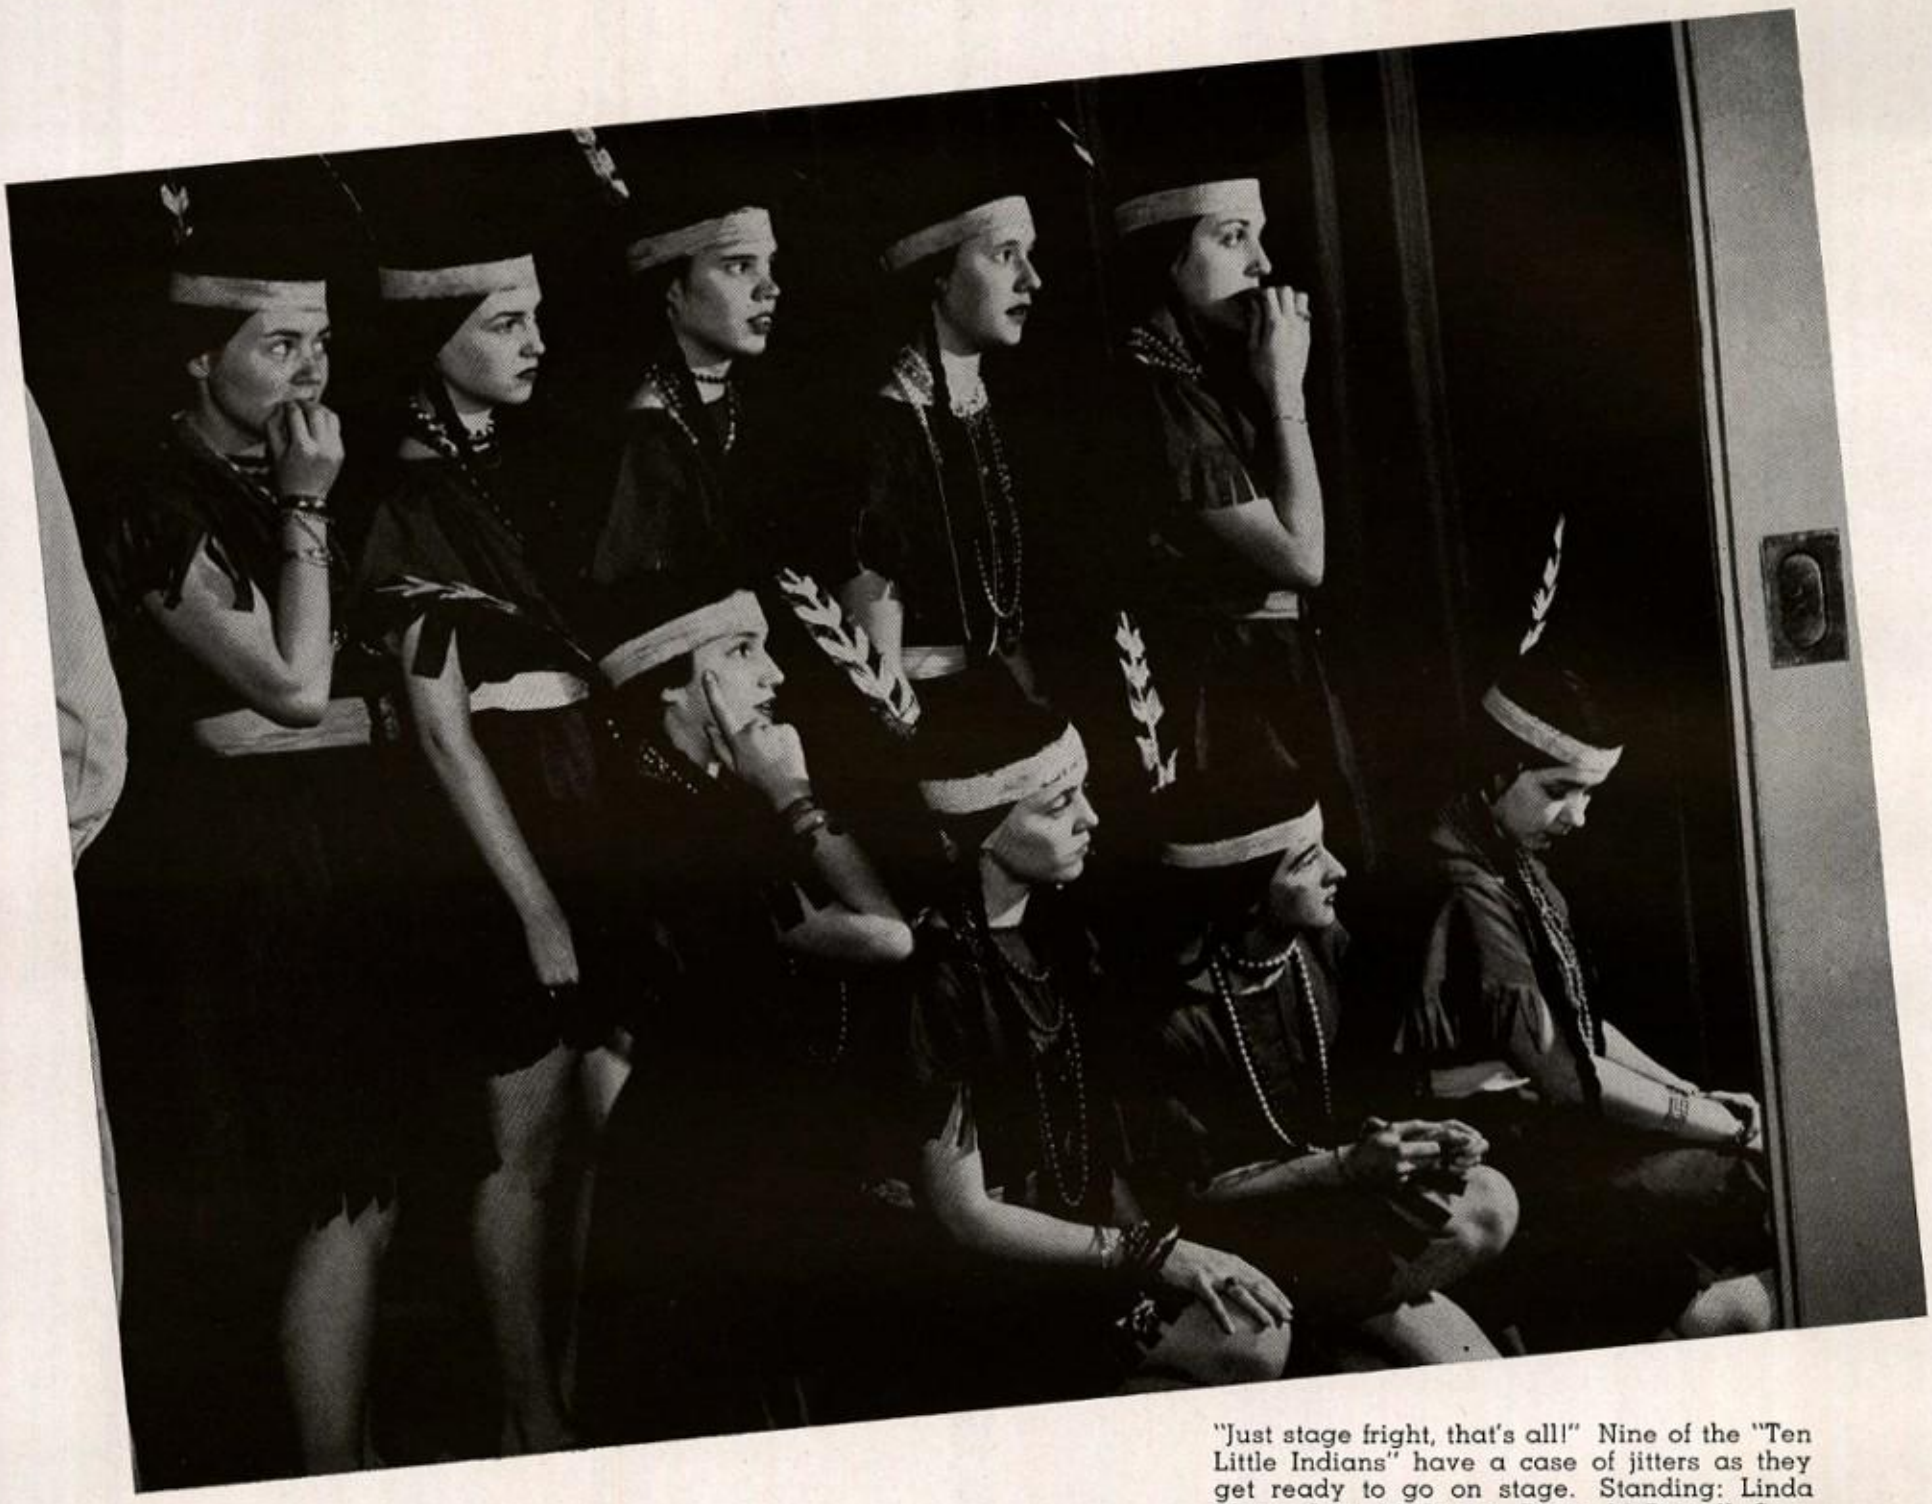
"Sorry, I'd love to, but . . . "

Yes, final exams were here again. The end of January brought sleet, snow, but worst of all, the burning of midnight oil for all. Cramming sessions and comparing notes over the phone were prevalent those last few days. Mothers were astounded to see fun-loving Junior bury his head in books and notes far into the night. Not even the two half days of school, to which we normally would look forward, could cheer us up. A cloud of gloom hung over Nilehi as 1500 students took semester finals. But our teachers really "let their hair down" the following night in the "N" Club vs. faculty basketball game. The teachers had it over us during exams, but we put them in their place as the "N" Club won decisively.



THE ART OF COMMUNICATING





"Just stage fright, that's all!" Nine of the "Ten Little Indians" have a case of jitters as they get ready to go on stage. Standing: Linda Morse, Julie McGinnis, Dottie McDowell, Sandy Hagen, and JoAnne Lotz. Kneeling: Barb Neuman, Sandy Bruening, Lynne Izard, and Nancy Keppeler.

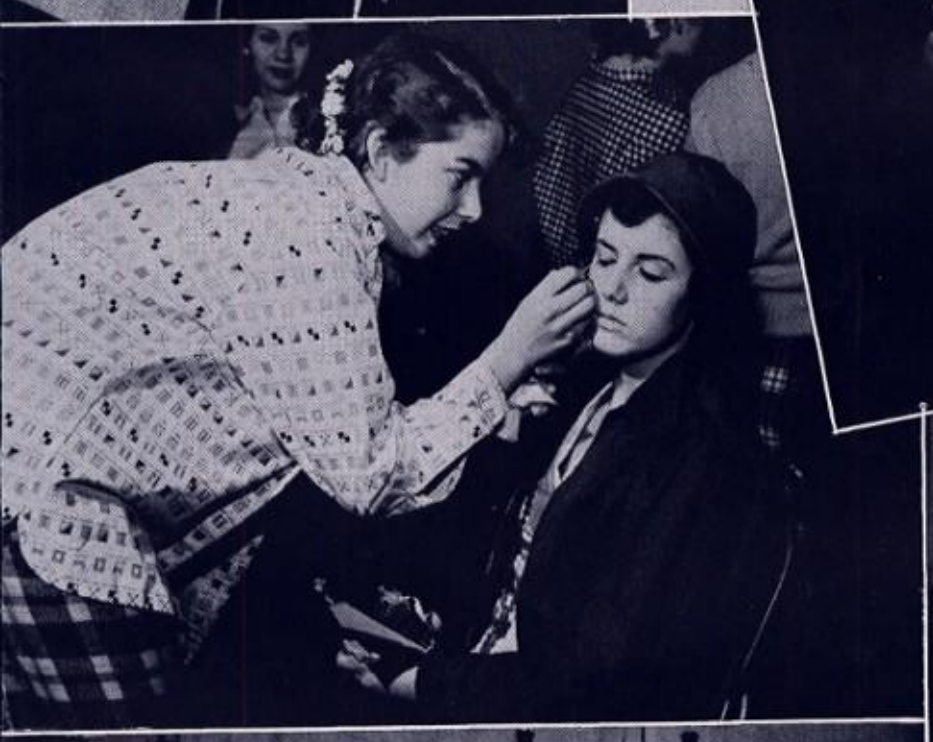
Reflections Revelries Brings Out The 'Ham' In Us...

Reflections Revelries, our annual all-school talent show, revealed a new side of many of our friends. We found that there's a little "ham" in all of us as we got our acts together, auditioned, and were finally accepted. Then came the big night and amid the bright lights, costumes, and grease paint we discovered our own stage fright. However, although we may have had our doubts and fears during those long night rehearsals, they were soon forgotten as the curtain rose on a smash hit.

Ron Shabel, emceeing our Revelries, paced the show in a way to make Ed Sullivan envious.

"Hmmmmmmm. Do you think that act was too long?" wonder Reflections' directors Mr. O. Hendrickson and Mr. W. Bost. "Maybe the boy on the left could use a little more make-up?"

A more serious act of the talent show was Grace Van Horne's beautiful ballet interpretation of "Tenderly."



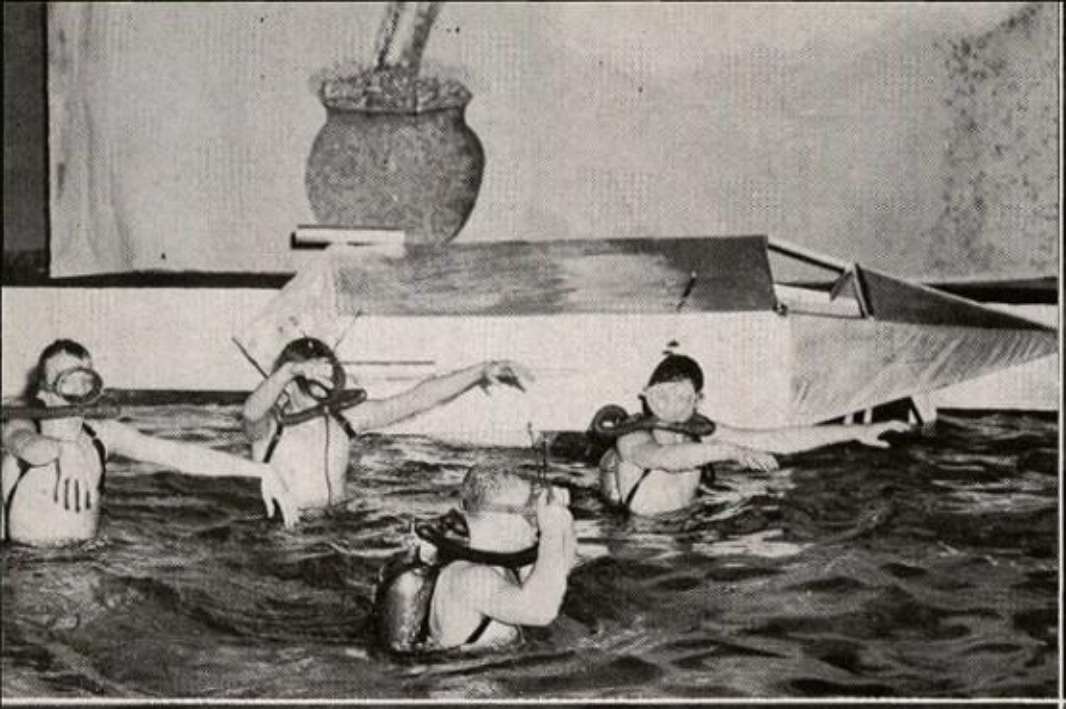
Judy Liss applies eye make-up to Jay Denning, who is to portray a 1920 flapper, just before curtain time.

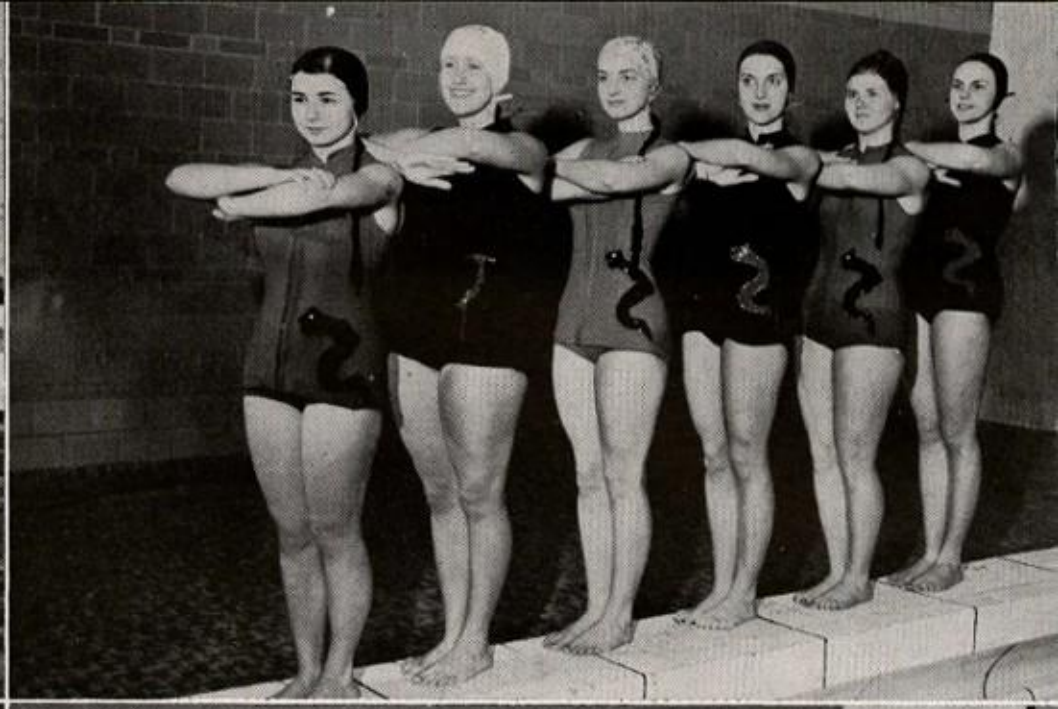
Vaudeville was revived by Nancy Cox and Bob Martin who presented a series of imitations good for a first place tie. Here, Bob gives his impersonation of Maurice Chevalier singing "Mimi."

"Three Guys and a Gal" —Darlene McLeod, Fred Melberg, Lloyd Gadau, and Bill Kuchar — give out their pantomine rendition of "Sh-Boom" for a first place tie in the show.

An old-time silent movie, complete with drunken father, helpless heroine, villain, and brave hero, is acted out by Laura Sitowski, Sue Beckman, Karen Lawton, Jay Denning, Sandy Reed, Carol Larsen, Cindy Naaf, Val Kay, Judy Coleman, Janet Fortman, and Eleanor Kossack.

"No, You Can't Get a Man with a Gun," reveals sophomore Sarane Crowther singing that spirited song from "Annie Get Your Gun."





Complete with lit antennae and a silver space ship, these four men from Mars, Roland Larson, Jack Thornton, Warren Hansen, and Burt Fiengold, perform an underwater swimming act with aqualungs.

"Flight 16's" stop at Spain reveals four pirates complete with knives and golden hoop earrings. Left to right are Anne Newton, Carolyn Drake, and Georgia Harrison. Carolyn Onsrud is in the foreground.

These six Chinese girls in their red and black costumes are ready to swim to "Hong Kong Lorol." They are Nancy Keppeler, Joan Gutowsky, Marilyn Dell, JoAnne Lotz, Linda Morse, and Claudia Joslyn.

Three of the penguins in the water show, Janet Pitt, Barb Stryker, and Fran Marling, pose before plunging into the icy waters of the Antarctic.

There's a big splash ahead for this "Marsman," Laurie Soloman, as he takes part in the comedy diving act when "Flight 16" takes the audience through outer space.

Aloha! Hawaiian dancers Barb Larsen, Carol Gallagher, Betty Porter, and Diane Klinge perform the hula in luminous costumes as "Flight 16" takes the audience to Hawaii.

All Aboard For 'Flight 16'...

It's The Annual Water Show

All aboard for "Flight 16"—this was the theme of the sixteenth annual water show. We all took a trip around the world via the Nilehi natatorium as the swimmers in each of the acts took us through France, China, India, Hawaii, the Antarctica, and other countries. Airline stewardesses—members of the Ushers Club—took us to our armchair seats for the trip.

Swimming may have seemed an effortless operation for members of the cast, but actually hours of hard work were put in under direction of Miss Shirlee Wilson to make the show a memorable event. The presentation of four performances required countless rehearsals and meetings of the chairmen of the numbers, student director, and sponsor. "Flight 16" was the perfect take-off for our spring vacation.

Keeping touch with the boys who take care of the sound and lighting are Miss Shirlee Wilson, water show sponsor, and Marilyn Horn.

With the water show scenery as a back drop, Karen Holmberg, Cecilia Belgarbo, Susy Schuster, Pat Baumann, and Grace Van Horne do an African dance to "Jungle Drums."

Leaving the Prom for the Loop are Gary Cockrell and Eileen Corr, Diane Petersen (background), and Chuck Platt and Kay Eberhardt.

Our faculty chaperones enjoyed the evening, too. Looks like Dr. Ryden has a good one up his sleeve. Standing: Dr. and Mrs. A. Ryden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hallberg, Mr. and Mrs. F. McGuire, Miss Ruby Marr and her escort, Miss Betty Schmidt and Mr. Onni Hendrickson. Seated: Mr. and Mrs. H. Byram and Mr. and Mrs. A. Schubert.

We backed our favorites for prom leaders by making posters, composing slogans, and participating in the annual campaign march through the halls on election day.

June 14 . . . Chevy Chase . . . Star Dust . . .

Breakfast at Dawn . . .

There's Nothing Like The Senior Prom!

The highlight of our evening was the Grand March.
Doesn't look like the familiar bobby-sox crowd, does it?

"Hello, Jane? Guess what? He finally asked me . . . !"

"Gingiss Brothers? I'd like to rent a summer tux for June 14 . . . "

Coketail parties raised the curtain on our big night, and when we arrived at Chevy Chase everyone was there. We were proud of our Prom leaders as they led us in the Grand March. All too soon, Dan Belloc and his men played the final notes of "I'll See You In My Dreams" and we were on our way again. In the Loop, we met for a late supper, floor show, and more dancing. Home again for forty winks and up for breakfast parties and a day at the beach . . . swimming, sunburn, and picnics . . . which brought our Prom to a perfect end.

It's almost time for that big moment as graduates line up for the commencement processional.

Waiting anxiously in line, these graduates will soon be taking their places on the stage with their fellow classmates.

Realizing that this is the last time they'll be together in a long time, graduates wait solemnly for their diplomas.

Climaxing Our Four Years Of High School Life . . . Commencement

One graduate helps another adjust her hat in those exciting last moments of high-school life.

The event that climaxed four years of hard work, fun, and excitement was graduation. Until the last few months of our senior year, everyone was counting the days. This attitude changed completely, however, during those last days when graduation was becoming a reality.

With the arrival of the long-awaited night came tenseness and excitement. As we marched up to the platform, we caught glimpses of our family and friends watching us with pride. Feeling strangely dignified in our blue and white caps and gowns, we accepted the diploma we had looked forward to for so long and shook hands with Dr. Mason. As we glanced around at all our classmates, we knew this would be the last time we'd all be together as a class. Some of us would be going to college in the fall while others would be continuing summer jobs and taking new positions. Still others would be looking forward to marriage. With mixed emotions we realized our high-school days had come to an end and that we were leaving Niles Township High School to take new and unfamiliar places in our community.

Mr. Clarence Payne hands a diploma to the first graduate in line as Mr. Harold Ohlson calls the name and Dr. Joseph Mason stands ready to extend congratulations.

Life Begins At 3:30 . . .

Activities Keep Us Busy

Are we busy? A glance at our school calendar for Tuesday, March 22, gives the answer:

Period 1	Senior Class Cabinet, Room 114
	Junior Class Cabinet, Room 227
	Sophomore Class Cabinet, Gym Balcony
	Freshman Class Cabinet, Room 21
	Meeting of the General Assembly of Student Council, Room 100
3:30	Service Club, 112
	See Chicago Club Board, 216
	Water Show Practice, Pool
	Chess Club, Room 107
4:15	Track, Maine and Highland Park at Maine
6:30	Winter Sports Award Dinner, Cafeteria
7:00	Reflections' Rehearsal, Boys' Gymnasium
7:30	Tri-Hi-Y, Assembly Room
	Barber Shoppers, Room 100

For most of us, the day is just beginning at 3:30. Studies are an important part of school life, but long after we've forgotten what happened in 1066, or what x equals, we'll remember the hours spent in rewriting yearbook copy; the excitement of opening night for "My Three Angels"; the last minute rush to complete the decorations for the dances; and the burst of applause for newly inducted members of the National Honor Society.

Fifty different organizations provide varied activities to suit each of us. Working together, we learn to be creative, to be of service, to take our place as part of a group, to assume responsibility, and to become leaders.

The entire General Assembly participates in a discussion concerning parliamentary procedure, led by president Dave Winchester and sponsor Mr. Lain.

Student Council Is The Voice Of Student Opinion

Did you notice the clean-up campaign or the boys helping to guard traffic on Lincoln Avenue this year? These projects, together with the support of Lee Min Soo, a Korean orphan, and the presentation of a Waukegan talent assembly, originated in the General Assembly of the Student Council. This legislative body, made up of elected representatives from each homeroom, has created committees to promote citizenship, to organize a new student court, and to develop an honor study hall system. This body works on problems affecting the interests of the students and studies democratic procedure.

If you have a complaint or a suggestion, why not mention it to your Student Council representative? To provide more time for discussion and the solving of student problems, Student Council, this year, meets twice a week.

Marilyn Dell, Vince Donile, Mike Sheahan, and Bob Bonebrake plan for a system for honor study halls to be tried in the near future.

Responsible for promoting citizenship and activating the Code of Ethics is the citizenship committee which includes Vince Donile, Norm Garland, Bruce Debes, and Nancy Keppeler.

Student Council president Dave Winchester goes over the notes of a meeting with secretary Nancy Keppeler and vice-president Lenny Miresse.

The Executive Board, which consists of the officers and an elected representative from each class level, plans the agenda for the meetings. Standing: Darryl Bach, Bill Kuchar, Lenny Miresse, Beth Williamson, and Nancy Keppeler. Seated: Dave Winchester and Kay Crouchley.

The idea of a Student Court having been approved, Doug Bonebrake, Norm Garland, Alan Johnson, and Rosemary Nitsche work out a plan for its fulfillment.

Nancy Keppeler, Lenny Miresse, Bill Kuchar, and Dave Winchester represent Niles at meetings of the Suburban League Student Advisory Association which works on such problems as improving sportsmanship.

Members of the safety committee developed a system of traffic guards this year. Seated: Ron Shabel, Rosemary Nitsche, Karen Breitzke, and Bob Schroeder. Standing: Ken Sartini and Alan Johnson.

For the first time at Nilehi, a student, charged with the violation of a school rule, may tell his side of the story to the new Student Court, made up of representatives from each class. Judges of the court are: Bill Kuchar, Diane Payne, Larry Schildgen, Jill Linn, Harold Neimer, Jim Voight, Dave Brownlee, Miss Lois Lamberg (adviser), and Sue Bastow.

Working with the dummy of the 1955 Reflections, editors Barb Dischert and Judy Coleman select pictures for the opening pages.

A Busy Staff Edits Our Yearbook . . . Captures Spirit of Niles in Reflections

The thought and idea for this year's Reflections goes back to March, 1954. At that time the staff of '55 was selected and the theme of growth was decided upon to tie the yearbook in with the tremendous expansion of the school.

In September under the guidance of the sponsor Mrs. Mary Ida McGuire, the actual production of the book was started. The Yearbook Finance Staff, supervised by Mr. Ronald Van Arsdale, took over our money problems by handling the Magazine Drive, proceeds from which helped to pay for the book. Because of the increasing number of students, the General Staff decided to have a larger book than in previous years. The cover was designed, student pictures and classroom shots were taken, page makeup was planned, and copy and headlines were written. Each staff member became responsible for a different section of the book. Meanwhile, the Senior Section Staff, under Mrs. Lucille Barnes, took charge of the senior portraits.

As the April 1 deadline approached, Room 222 became filled with feverish activity every 5A period. Copy was re-written and editors "burned the midnight oil" as last-minute copy and pictures were turned in. After spring vacation final page proofs were corrected and work on the book was completed.

A long-awaited moment arrived when we caught our first glimpse of the completed book at the Reflections Staff dinner held a few days before the book was released to the students.

Janet Piper, copy editor, helps Bob White, sports editor, write a headline for the sports section.

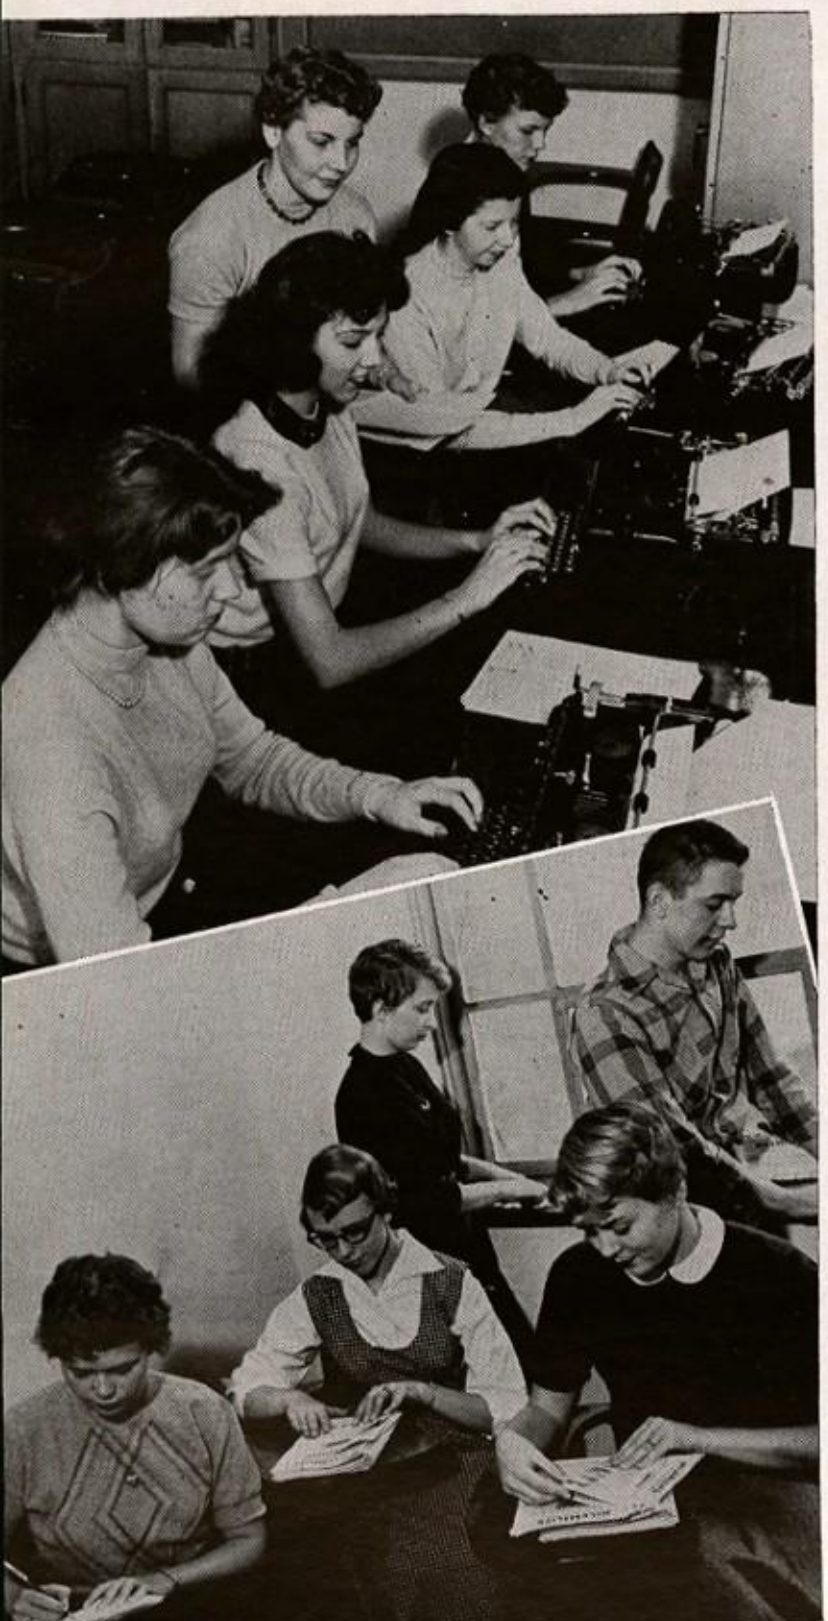
"Going back to their childhood days" are Bob Bonebrake, Anne Newton, and Marilyn Escher, but it's only for a skit in the annual Magazine Drive Assembly.

Checking on pictures and copy for the Nilehilite are Joyce Rossmann (circulation manager), Tom Howard (photographer), Gloria Bolin (news bureau chief), Barb Dischert (feature editor), and Gordon Grabow (photographer). Seated: Ardie Wharton (girls' sports editor), Janet Piper (editor-in-chief), and Chuck Bitter (sports editor).

Without these able typists, the Nilehilite might never get out. Typing copy are Diana Haas (chief typist, 8th period), Jean Von Rautenkranz, Kay Christiansen (chief typist, 7th period), Jackie Worthley, and Marie Heppner.



Headline, Deadlines, and Bylines . . . All Are Familiar To Nilehilite Staff

The hustle and bustle of a newspaper office is reproduced in Room 219 when editors and reporters of the Nilehilite rush to meet their deadlines. The three editors make assignments; then, stories are written, edited, typed, and sent to be linotyped. Pictures are taken, cutlines are written, and Mr. Wesley and the boys in the print shop are visited and revisited by the editors to check on the progress of the paper. When the final "30" is written at last, the editors, staff, and Mr. Paul Eberhardt, sponsor, forget the headaches in a feeling of satisfaction that the Nilehilite is finally "put to bed" and will be ready for readers on Friday.

The exchange staff is responsible for sending every issue of the Nilehilite to alumni and to other schools. Getting an issue ready for mailing are Barb McKaig, Barb Kitch, and Linda Morse. Standing: Ellen Greiner and Dave Kraus (exchange editor).

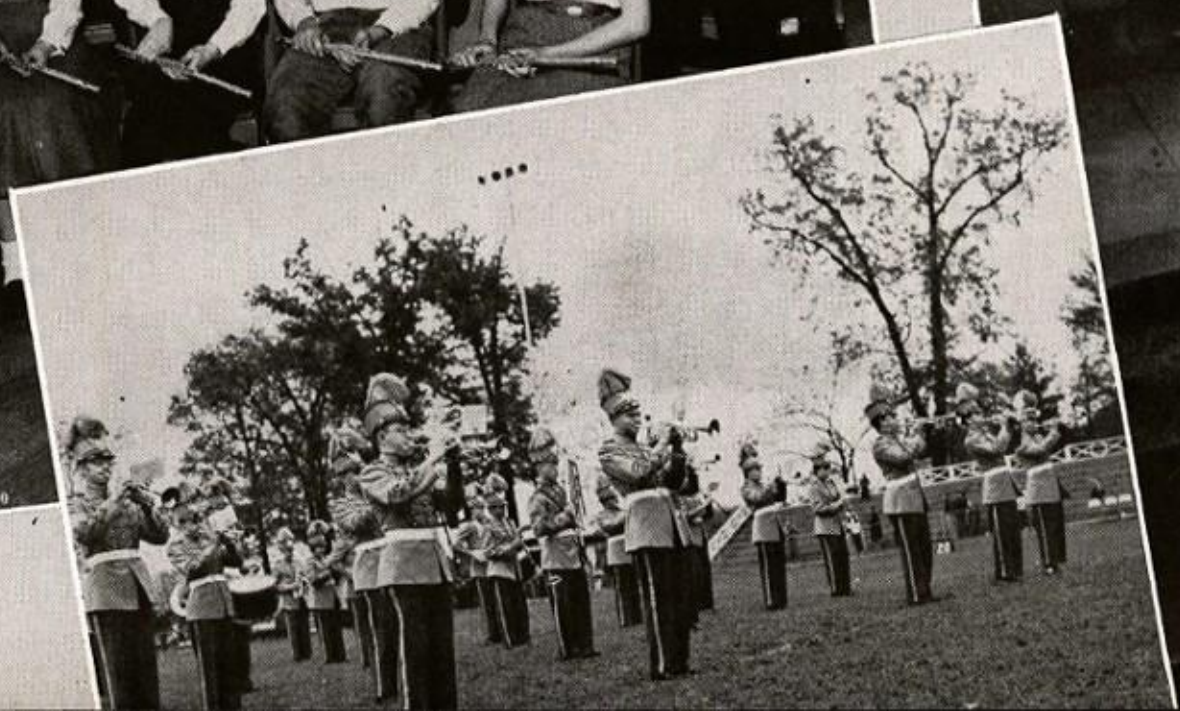
Golden Galleon Guild Offers Experience To Future Poets, Authors

Any future Shakespeare, Whitman or Poe to come out of Nilehi will probably have been a member of the Golden Galleon Guild. This creative writing group, sponsored by Mrs. Parepa Rice, publishes a magazine yearly in which the best poems, essays, and short stories of students are printed. These students are then initiated into the Guild in June at a banquet. This year the club has been active in other ways by having a "Padded Cell Party," a tea for mothers, and a trip downtown to see the English production of "Romeo and Juliet."

Golden Galleon board members plan this year's literary magazine. Scheduling a meeting are Tom Walmsley, Tom Glass, and Rudy Malz. Seated: Carol Borchert, Arlene Haubrich, and Kay Christiansen (president).

Let's pretend we're Golden Galleon members and look inspired! Scribblers work hard to improve their writing skills. Front Row: I. Petri, A. Meyer, J. Bridges, D. Lang, M. Johnson, D. Swanson. Second Row: L. Tesish, S. Weiss, D. Tellfors, S. Bell, M. Cameron, J. Bolin. Third Row: J. Otiepka, R. Hand, H. Johnson, J. Chiet, T. Greene. Fourth Row: M. O'Beirne, C. Steer, M. Reese, N. Plotnick, E. Roberts. Back Row: K. White, J. Verden, R. Young, J. Linn. Standing: Mrs. Barnes (sponsor), M. Walker, S. Bischof.



Spirited Music and Fancy Stepping... Here Come the Bands and Twirlers

Whether on the football field or the basketball court, the Varsity Band, under the direction of Mr. L. Provost, is on hand to cheer on the team and the crowd. Often assisted by the twirlers, whose original routines add much to the show, the band also plays at school assemblies, civic functions, parades, and the annual Spring Concert. In addition to the traditional marches, the band plays a wide range of music from classical to jazz. The Cadet Band, an intermediate group, gives its members additional practice and experience until they are ready to move up into the Varsity Band.

The Varsity Band presented its annual Spring Concert on May 13. Back Row: A. Haubrich, K. Schiffman, T. Walmsley, B. Kitch, D. Wold, D. Hull, N. Sutton, M. Tatman. Third Row: M. Levine, T. Hirte, J. Reiter, L. Racine, M. Hogan, G. Fehring, C. Fisher, G. Grabow, N. Martin, D. Metzler, B. Gooder, R. Kuchar. Second Row: R. Dann, F. Hodges, T. Oller, M. Riha, D. Stryker, B. Reinger, T. Hawk, W. Hansen, J. Mendera, E. Jago, H. Sherman, D. Nied, P. Grabow, B. Oosten, D. Enstrom. Front Row: R. Friedman, L. McColloch, C. Monson, A. Larson, T. Glass, L. Watson.

The Cadet Band consists of students who are playing an instrument for the first time. After a year of training, the members may transfer into the Varsity Band if they wish. Back Row: Mr. Collins, F. Millazzo, D. Cairo, J. Rothchild, T. Tobin, K. Swital, M. Schinberg, J. Berbaum, B. Dews. Third Row: B. Howard, C. Fox, G. Hansen, R. Pankey, A. Canter, C. Berndt, R. Dumay, R. Bodinus, S. Miller, R. Kofoerd, D. Turner, M. Levine, E. Farwell. Second Row: J. Sodemann, P. Hamilton, N. Robins, B. Gain, D. Grove, P. Trowbridge, J. Thornton, L. Leitherer, R. Dann. Front Row: M. Wesley, D. Samuelson, B. Ritter, S. Smith, D. Gierahn, G. Schuldiner.

The orchestra, which is directed by Mr. Hugh McGee, performs with the vocal department in the Christmas Vespers, May Festival, Informal Concert, and the Orchestra Concert. Back Row: G. Bitter, M. Tatman, A. Haubrick, D. Wold, and Mr. McGee (sponsor). Fourth Row: C. Cleary, R. Hartley, P. O'Neil, K. Grubb, B. Robins, B. Reinger, D. Metzler, C. Fisher, G. Grabow, R. Dann. Third Row: J. McGinnis, B. Swinyard, B. Williamson, D. Mueller, D. Owen, S. Larson, L. Commella, P. Grabow, J. Meudera, I. Sonkin, C. Macaluso, S. Schmickl. Second Row: D. Haas, N. Cleary, B. Halvorsen, L. Silverman, R. Friedman, T. Hawk. Front Row: L. Watson, R. Keats, B. Oosten, D. Enstrom.

There's Music In The Air . . .

Music fills the air around Room 110 and, in early October, when the choral groups begin to practice for Christmas Vespers, strains of "Winter Wonderland" drift into the open windows of study halls to set students dreaming of holidays to come. Steady and conscientious practice of "do re mi fa," repeated plugging away at various parts, and constant emphasis on strict timing finally result in the never-to-be-forgotten thrill of a beautiful song well done. No student who has ever experienced this will soon forget this feeling of satisfaction.

"No music without fun, and no fun without music" is the principle of the music department at Nilehi. At the same time, students and directors strive for the goal of that finished performance which will be acclaimed by the thundering applause of the audience. Besides the presentations of concerts in March, the music department is well known for the elaborate Christmas Vespers and the May Festival. There is no memory of Christmas more impressive than that of the entire music department, accompanied by the orchestra, singing Handel's magnificent "Messiah."

Meeting second and eighth periods every day, Frosh Girls' Glee, although a young group, is by no means an amateur one.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors belong to the Advanced Girls' Glee Club which meets daily.

"Sweet Adeline, My Adeline!" Joining in some close harmony are the Barbershoppers. Back Row: D. Owen, B. Bonebrake, and D. Peters. Second Row: B. Below and B. Schwartz. Front Row: R. Malz, T. Howard, and T. Hawk.

Choir, under the direction of Miss Clara Klaus, is the most advanced singing group. This group performs in school assemblies, the Christmas Vespers, May Festival, and the Informal Concert. Back Row: D. Peters, L. Wiess, C. Mark, B. Bonebrake, D. Owen, B. Koif, B. Kuchar, B. Below, B. Schwartz, T. Howard, J. Beddia. Fourth Row: R. Shipka, V. Kay, P. Rueckel, C. Nelson, M. Hepner, J. Cohan, S. Bastow, C. Joslyn, A. Wharton. Third Row: M. Schneider, C. Larson, R. Malz, E. Kezios, V. Donile, M. Lundin, C. Bristol, M. Dell, G. Bolin. Second Row: Miss Klaus (sponsor), M. Sams, D. Baumann, E. Kirscht, E. Collins, J. Denning, J. Boles, C. Hoffman. Front Row: N. Keppeler, J. Sessa, B. Lance, J. Coleman, J. Gutowsky, C. Conrad, J. Brandon, A. Oteipka.

Madrigals, a mixed group which meets once a week, is made up of members chosen from Choir by Miss C. Klaus. Back Row: T. Howard, B. Below, B. Schwartz, D. Owen, R. Malz. Second Row: G. Bolin, P. Rueckel, M. Sams. Front Row: N. Keppeler, J. Piper, E. Collins, J. Brandon.

Presenting a skit for their fellow members are the Thespian officers. Seated on stage: D. Dziadula (treasurer), N. Cox (recorder), B. Martin (vice-president), L. Watson (president), J. Macaluso (scrapbook chairman), and J. DeZutter (secretary). Standing on stage: D. Moore and Miss Stemp (sponsor). Standing, Back Row: T. Turner, B. Godell, P. Quigley, and B. Schroeder. Standing, Third Row: D. Vanderwall, J. Jack, L. Sitowski, R. Simpson, D. Wold, R. Shabel, D. Cleven, and W. Bornemeier. Seated, Second Row: P. Holm, D. Payne, J. Fortman, and J. Baron. Seated, First Row: E. Kossack, M. Witte, L. Hathaway, and B. Stillman. Seated on edge of stage: C. Smith, C. Naaf, R. Nitsche, and C. Schweger.

Talking over their plans for the coming year are the officers of the Spotlighter's Club. Seated: Bob Schroeder (president). Standing: Judy Liss (secretary), Betty Bartholomew (treasurer), Sandy Johnson scrapbook chairman), Marianne Witte (recorder), Donna Vanderwall (vice-president), and Wally Bornemeier (photographer).

Wigs . . . Powder . . . Grease Paint . . . The Play's The Thing

"Places everyone . . . Act I."

"Footlights up, houselights down!"

"Curtain going up!"

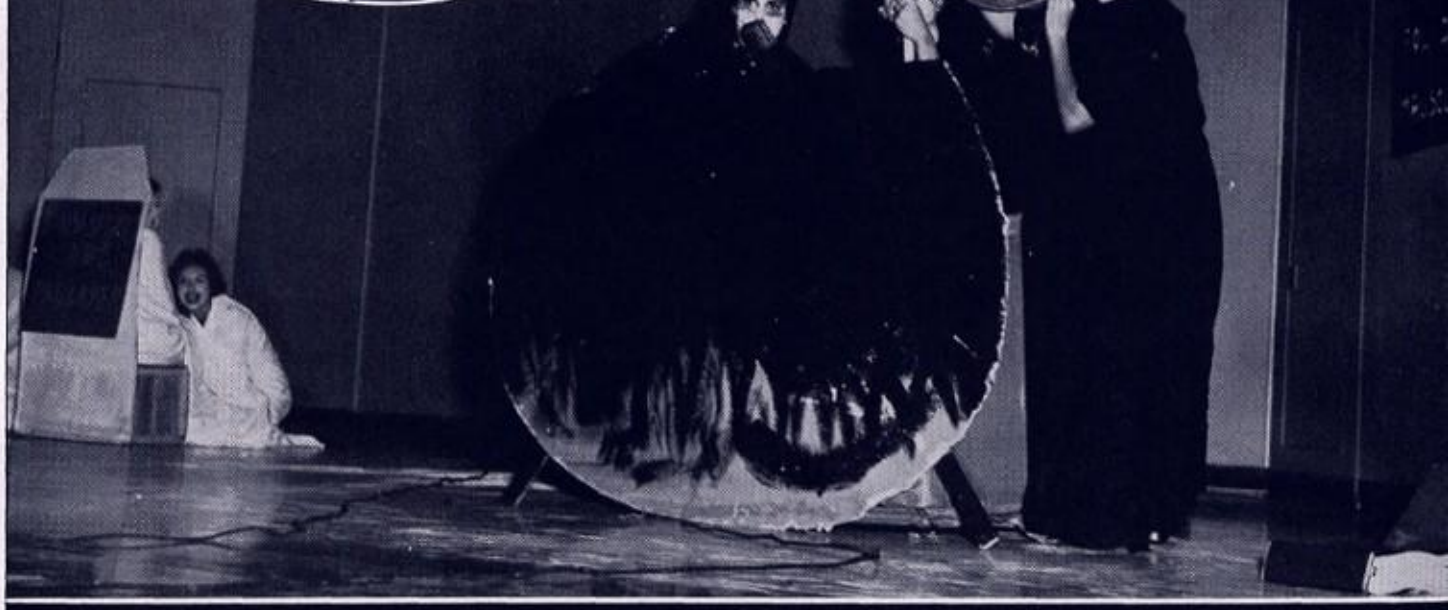
Before these final words are spoken, however, a great many hours have been put in. There are sets to be made by the stage crew, costumes and props to be borrowed, bought, or made, make-up to be applied, and above all, weeks of hard work and rehearsal. The fall and spring productions this year were two Broadway hits, 'Goodbye My Fancy" and "My Three Angels." Besides two major plays, the drama department also presents several one-act plays, puts on skits for pep assemblies, and entertains at P.T.A. and other club functions.

The drama department sponsors two large groups at Nilehi, the Spotlighters and Thespians. A student starts out as a Spotlighter, and when he had earned ten points, the equivalent of one hundred hours of work, he is eligible to become a full-fledged Trespian. From there, he may advance to even higher honors by earning additional points and receiving awards for these points. The combination of Miss Stemp's fine direction and the hard work of both Spotlighters and Thespians provides continually better plays at Nilehi.

In "Goodby My Fancy," one too many cocktails at the faculty tea for Professor Birdshaw (Dorothy Dziadula) makes it necessary for Professor Dingley (Bob Martin) to carry her out. Looking on, aghast, are Mrs. Griswald (Carol Schweger) and her husband Mr. Griswald (Dennis Moore), chairman of the school board, and Woody (Janice Jack), Agatha's secretary.

Dean Jim Merrill (played by Phil Quigley), president of Good Hope College, looks on sadly as his favorite alumna, Agatha Reed (Toni Turner), who has recently returned to Good Hope, gazes fondly into the eyes of Matt Kohl (Bob Schroeder), ace reporter and old-time friend.

Three witches, Nancy Cox, Kathy Krause, and Carol Schweger, are called upon to concoct a brew to boost the spirit of Nilehi before the Homecoming game. Waiting her call to appear is Janice Jack.



In 1954's spring play, the "Curious Savage," Mrs. Savage (Barbara Simpson), who has disinherited her selfish family, Samuel (Dennis Moore), Lilly Belle (Joyce Baron), and Titus (Wally Bornemeier), bids a fond farewell to her friends at the Cloisters, Jeffrey (Ron Shabel), Hannibal (Bob Schroeder), Fairy May (Dorothy Dziadula), Florence (Helen Schwinn), and Mrs. Paddy (Nancy Cox).

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs . . . Combine

Planning the Father-Son Banquet, held March 14, are second semester officers. Standing: D. Peterson, M. Nack, T. Hawk, F. Melberg, D. Chevrier. Second Row: D. Bonebrake, C. Buerk, B. Bonebrake, J. Macaluso, L. Gadau, B. Kuchar. Front Row: D. Eaman, R. Simpson, P. Swanson, B. White, D. Griffith, L. Wotan, R. Korsan, B. DiGilio, L. Meyer. Standing: Mr. Roth (sponsor) and Bob Petersen (president).

High spot of the Hi-Y year is the annual induction which takes place in February. Conducting the proceedings is Bob Peterson, Hi-Y second semester president.

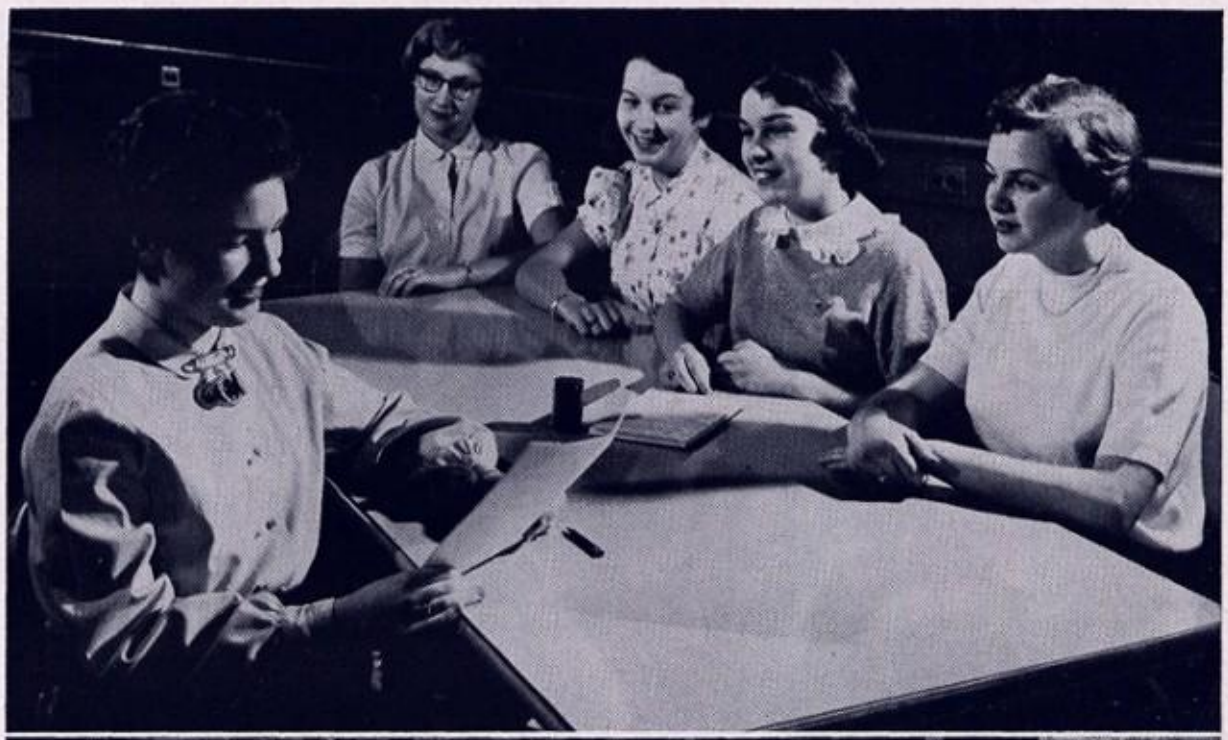
Mr. Roth (sponsor) and Fred Melberg (president) discuss Hi-Y induction plans with first semester officers. Back Row: B. Bonebrake and B. Kuchar. Second Row: F. Thomas, L. Wotan, D. Peterson, M. Nack, B. White, D. Owens, B. Petersen. Third Row: B. Scanlon, L. Meyer, R. Simpson, P. Swanson, D. Stryker, B. Schwarz. Front Row: H. Fuerzeig, B. DiGilio, J. Macaluso, R. Korsan, D. Griffith.

Niles Hi-Y is more than just a club to its members: it provides a chance at clean fun, athletic competition, and spiritual fellowship to those who belong. In the eight years since it was organized under the leadership of Mr. George Roth, Hi-Y has grown in size from the membership of seven to one of over one hundred. Hi-Y is affiliated with the Evanston Y.M.C.A., but a boy does not need to be a member of the "Y" to join. Hi-Y sponsors many annual activities such as the Junior Citizenship Award, won last year by Fred Melberg and Anna Otiepka, and a scholarship for an outstanding senior. The winner last year was Rosemary DiGilio. The club was also instrumental in starting the Homecoming Parade at Niles. Membership is open to any sophomore, junior, or senior boy.

Fun With a Christian Atmosphere

Tri-Hi-Y, our junior-senior girls' club affiliated with the Evanston "Y," boast a membership of over a hundred in 1954-55. Through the efforts of Tri-Hi-Y, 68 orphans from St. Hedwig's Orphanage were treated to Christmas and Easter parties; "Smile Week" was introduced; and the "Hardly Hop," an all-school dance, was held. Mrs. Rita Gauer became the new sponsor this year.

The Frosh-Soph Girls' Club was organized in September, with Miss Janet Loranger as sponsor, because of the need for a group similar to Tri-Hi-Y on an underclass level. The main objective of the club is to promote social and charitable activities.



Planning the program for the next meeting are Tri-Hi-Y officers Eleanor Collins (secretary), Fran Marling (treasurer), Carol Schweger (vice-president), Carol Borchert (president), and Dona Baumann (worship chairman).

A toothbrush and teeth with the slogan "Brush 'em Off" is the Homecoming float being constructed by Tri-Hi-Yers Janet Piper, Joyce Rossman, Connie Carlson, Carol Callisen, Carol Borchert, Diane Donile, and Joyce DeZutter. Wonder who's hiding under the N-Club hat?

Planning activities for the newly-organized Frosh-Soph Girls' Club are Marilyn Kamin (president), Lynne Racine (sergeant-at-arms), Heidi Schwarz (treasurer), JoAnn Otiepka (secretary), and Lennie McCulloch (vice-president).

The Goal of Every Student . . . National Honor Society

As parents nearly burst with pride, 48 selected juniors and seniors file onto the stage to receive their certificates, roses, and pins. Holding out their burning candles, they recite the pledge, and are officially made members of the National Honor Society—the greatest honor that can come to any high school student. But the ceremony itself is merely a climax to years of hard work, because these students had to be in the upper 20 per cent of their class before they were selected by the faculty on the basis of four points: character, scholarship, leadership, and service. A short time ago, there was much suspense as to who was going to be selected; now, in unison, they finish the pledge—"To the upholding of these ideals, I now pledge myself, mind and spirit."

Fifteen seniors were elected to National Honor Society last year for being outstanding in both character and scholarship. Back Row: B. Petersen, B. Drake, B. Below, B. Bonebrake, L. Watson, M. Weiner. Seated: C. Borchert, J. Piper, K. Christiansen, T. Howard, E. Collins, B. Scanlan, D. Bonebrake, J. DeZutter, A. Haubrich.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Keppeler beam with pride as they congratulate their daughter Nancy on being inducted into the National Honor Society this year.

In an impressive, all-school assembly, 48 new members are inducted into the Nilehi Chapter of National Honor Society by the 15 juniors inducted last year. New inductees are E. Greiner, C. Grubb, B. DiGilio, B. Eimstead, B. Dischert, B. Neuman, L. Himmler, M. Del Corobbo, P. Bartholomew, D. Anthony, D. Kraus, M. Dell, M. Witte, D. Shea, T. Maypole, D. Petersen, V. Kay, C. Drake, B. Schroeder, D. Chevrier, P. Biesman, B. Schwarz, R. Shabel, D. Winchester, C. Buerk, N. Butzow, P. Quigley, D. Bach, S. Reed, G. Bolin, D. Griffith, R. Trendel, R. White, J. Lotz, T. Hawk, K. Holmberg, J. Jack, J. Vick, C. Smith, V. Banks, C. Callisen, B. Halvorsen, L. Adelman, S. Johnson, J. Rossmann, J. Coleman, and N. Keppler. Inductees of last year are R. Below, L. Watson, M. Weiner, E. Collins, R. Petersen, J. Piper, R. Drake, A. Haubrich, R. Bonebrake, D. Bonebrake, J. DeZutter, K. Christiansen, T. Howard, C. Borchert, and W. Scanlan.

There are Special Clubs . . . to Satisfy Every Interest

A score of "300" is the goal of the members of Bowling Club. Waiting their turn to fire the ball down the alley are Joe Vosnik, Dick Fehns, and Ron Eggert. In March ,a banquet was held at which time Mr. Ellis (sponsor) presented trophies to sophomore Glenn Johnson, high bowler of the season with a score of 254, and to each member of the first place team: Joe Vosnik, Louis Ottlinger, Ernie Kezios, and Don Morton.

Four teams, directed by Dr. John Betts, debated the subject of Free World Trade. With the encouragement and enthusiasm of their coach, the sub-varsity team composed of Joe Michael, Ed Polluck, Carol Stine, and Joan Comiano won first place in the tournament. Standing: Dr. Betts (sponsor), F. Wettering, J. Beddia, J. Wollin, F. Saunder, P. Quigley. Second Row: C. Stine, M. Carter, J. Erny, J. Vick. Front Row: J. Comiano, J. Michael, S. Crowther, E. Polluck listen as Eleanor Collins gives one of her speeches.

"The next move may be fatal," is Mr. Adam's (sponsor) warning to Chess Club members Denny Williams, Alan Berberick, Bill Scanlon, Louis Sefick, Jim Stoner, and Dick Griffith. Members meet every Tuesday night to learn the moves and tricks of playing one of the most difficult games. Round Robin tournaments are held between the members in order to pick a champion through elimination. Ray Frank, senior, was champion during his freshman and sophomore years.

Making telescopes and grinding lenses for the telescope has been a major achievement of Astronomy Club members. Standing: N. Cleary, C. Cleary, J. Sefick, R. Zuber, J. Schmidling, C. Wagner (vice-president), G. Schultz (president). Seated: D. Willie, R. Kofoed, T. Stark, J. Beddia (secretary).

Service Is the Business of these Club Members . . .

Lose your glasses? Look to the Lost and Found for help. Carol Ann Gallagher, Phil LeTourneau, Henry Feuerzeig, and Jim Harms, members of the Service Club, help run the Lost and Found in the cafeteria during each lunch period.

The Ushers Club is a student-run organization of junior and senior girls. Throughout the year the organization furnishes girls to usher for Parents' Night, all the school plays, Christmas Vespers, Reflections Revelry, Water Show, and the Spring Concert. Miss Dorothy Lungmus (sponsor) helps Claudia Joslyn and Barbara Neuman, junior chairmen, with their Usher ribbons. Not pictured is Diane Donile, senior chairman.

The Welfare Committee, made up of volunteer students from all classes, meets once a month. In January this group sponsors collections for the March of Dimes and in March, the Red Cross Drive, for which the members prepare the familiar red and white donation cans. Standing: Miss Doris Tillmann (sponsor), K. Christiansen (chairman), J. Esbrook, H. Neer, B. Larsen, F. Gorom, N. Harris, L. Berzon, L. Izard. Seated: J. Burt (secretary), C. Drake, D. Baumann, E. Kirscht, N. Scanlan.

During their study halls, sophomores, juniors, and seniors may work in the library under Miss Mary Walker. Back Row: K. Lavnick, S. Waddell, N. Scanlan, J. Cohan, B. Busch, S. Hagen, K. Carlson. Second Row: M. Kamin, L. Workenthier, C. Bergquist, B. Kamin, D. Cutro, J. Wahlen, D. Thomas. Front Row: J. Worthley, H. Boyd, D. Renberg, D. Pionke, E. Bleckman, G. Dent, S. Kriese, E. Gannon.

Any boy in school may belong to the Visual Aids Operators Club which provides movies, projectors, records, and phonographs for class use. Club members, who are taught to run the machines and care for the equipment by Miss Dorothy Hind, are the only students in the school permitted to use the audio-visual equipment. Back Row: Paul Mueller (chief operator), Gerald Schultz, Roger Simpson (chief operator). Front Row: William Scanlan (vice-president), Gene Heidelbauer, Dick Griffith (treasurer), Dennis Moore (president).

Some Clubs are for Seniors Only . . .

Operation of Nilehi's monthly Student Union is in the hands of these 12 capable seniors. Making posters to advertise one of the "big nights" are Carol Larsen, Dick Griffith, Bob Bonebrake, Jerry Best, Miss L. Lamberg (sponsor), Ellen Greiner, and Dona Baumann. Seated: Bill Scanlon, Carol Borchert (treasurer), Joyce Rossman (secretary), Kay Christiansen (president), Anna Otiepka, and Barb Dischert.

"Where shall we go next?" This is the problem solved by these six senior homeroom representatives as they plan activities for the See Chicago Club. Seated clockwise: Mr. E. Napier (sponsor), Sue Bastow, Jim Stoner, Eleanor Collins, Carol Borchert, Arlene Haubrich, and Tom Hawk.

New Orleans vacationers from Nilehi are really dressed for the southern exposure as they pause outside the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi, Mississippi, located right on the Gulf of Mexico.

Highlight of the year for the Latin Club, sponsored by Miss Dorothy Hind and Miss Lois Lamberg, is the Roman Banquet held in March. The Roman way of living is re-created by making togas, dining, and enjoying recreation of the ancient world. The Saturnalia, or Christmas party, an annual event, also stimulates interest in classical culture. It's fun, too, according to the officers. Standing: Jessie Bridges, Jim Chandler. Seated: Bob Schroeder, Betsy Reedy, Jerry Vick, Dorothy McDowell.

Spanish Club members have learned much about countries "South of the Border" from their honored speaker from Paraguay as well as from movies, games, records, and songs of the Spanish people. "Bienvenidos" Fiesta, Palacio de Bellas Artes, and the bullfights were highlights of the Mexico trip taken during spring vacation. Judy Boles, Sandy Howard, Sherill Horn, and Jeanne O'Beirne are seen ready to say "Hasta la vista" before leaving for Xochimilco, Acapulco, Cuernavaca, and Taxco on a tour directed by Mr. Don Blair, chairman of the foreign language department.

Officers of the 100% Club are Kay Christiansen (president), Harriet Boyd (promotion manager), Joyce Rossman (treasurer), Marilyn Thompson (vice-president), and Mary Lou Weiner (secretary). Typing forty words a minute or having a perfect shorthand test is the requirement for membership in the 100% Club sponsored by Miss Immel.

Sponsored by Miss Line and Miss Butler, the Pins and Pans Club is open to all girls in the home economics courses. Officers of this club are Diane Payne (vice-president), Betty Peterson (treasurer), Barbara Ritter (secretary), and Rosemary Kohlbacher (president).

School Courses Lend Themselves to Special Clubs . . .

Paris may be just a dream for Claudia Joslyn (vice-president) and Bob Martin (president), but, if they ever do visit La Belle France, Notre Dame, the Left Bank, and the Tuileries will be familiar. Songs, games, and talks on France are the highlights of French Club meetings. Mrs. Baker's French Club also attended L'Aiglon, a famous French restaurant in Chicago.

Members of the Physics Club not only make projects of their own which they take to the State Fair, but they also plan and put on demonstrations for the other science clubs of the school. Standing: A. Lange, L. Adelman, B. White, D. Nied, M. Dean, F. Gorom. Seated: B. Schwarz, B. Kuchar, E. Ross.

These Clubs Probe the Wonders of Science . . .

Interest in science is stimulated by the Freshman Boy's Science Club, whose members attend bi-monthly meetings at which they hear talks and see demonstrations on different phases of science. While Mr. Welch looks on, J. Chandler, the president, and his officers, D. Young and J. Eischen, examine a chicken skeleton and a piece of scientific apparatus. Back Row: P. Horsman, A. Gerteurich, B. Swinyard, J. Vandervelde, V. Vorhees, B. Meneilley. Third Row: R. Guess, D. Saunders, M. North, A. Johnson, J. Kinsey, G. Sorenson. Second Row: M. LeVine, R. Hagen, H. Fink, B. Piper, D. Williamson, G. Hansen. Seated: R. Kofoed, P. Tworoger, B. Gain, D. Turner.

Cutting up cow's eyes separated the "strong" from the "weak" with the "strong" becoming members of the Ni-Hi-Sci-Club. Clockwise: M. MacRae, N. Knepper, A. Matson, Miss Harrison (sponsor), B. Brodd, K. Nordlof, J. Bolin, N. Farnham, J. Bridges.

Athletics of the Year . . .

For Our School Spirit

Sports Provide an Outlet

"We're waitin, We're waitin', We're waitin' for the team," roars the crowd in the gym. The team, nervously waiting in the locker room, hears the coach bring his pep talk to an end. They hear the stamping feet of the spectators waiting for their entrance. The players think of the hard work, the great lesson of teamwork and cooperation, the intricate plays they have mastered. As the coach reads the starting lineup, they feel the excitement rising within them. "All right boys, let's go!" he shouts. As they trot up into the gym and begin their layups, the same stirring emotion is in each boy's heart. He and the team must fight and win for Niles.

Jerry Best informs members of the "N" Club of the cost of the movie projector which was bought for the school out of "N" Club funds. Back Row: D. Baker, J. Ravencroft, K. Menaugh, B. Debes, B. Horning, L. Sefick, B. Petersen, B. Bonebrake, A. Karnatz, D. Winchester, J. Breden. Fourth Row: B. Trendel, J. Whitehead, L. Renis, S. Michaelson, G. Mills, B. Kuchar, L. Gadau, F. Melberg, D. Bach, N. Butzow. Third Row: L. Breden, D. Wright, L. Zender, D. Brownlee, C. Holler, D. Baker, J. Stoner, R. Simpson, K. Kay. Second Row: B. Petersen, S. Baron, R. Gamer, R. Hein, L. Miresse, K. Walters, D. Chevrier, C. Gunsaullus, J. Hagman. Front Row: Mr. J. Phipps (sponsor), W. Barranco, J. Elliott, M. Lundin, D. DiGilio, J. Esbrook, B. Pegausch, E. Kezios.

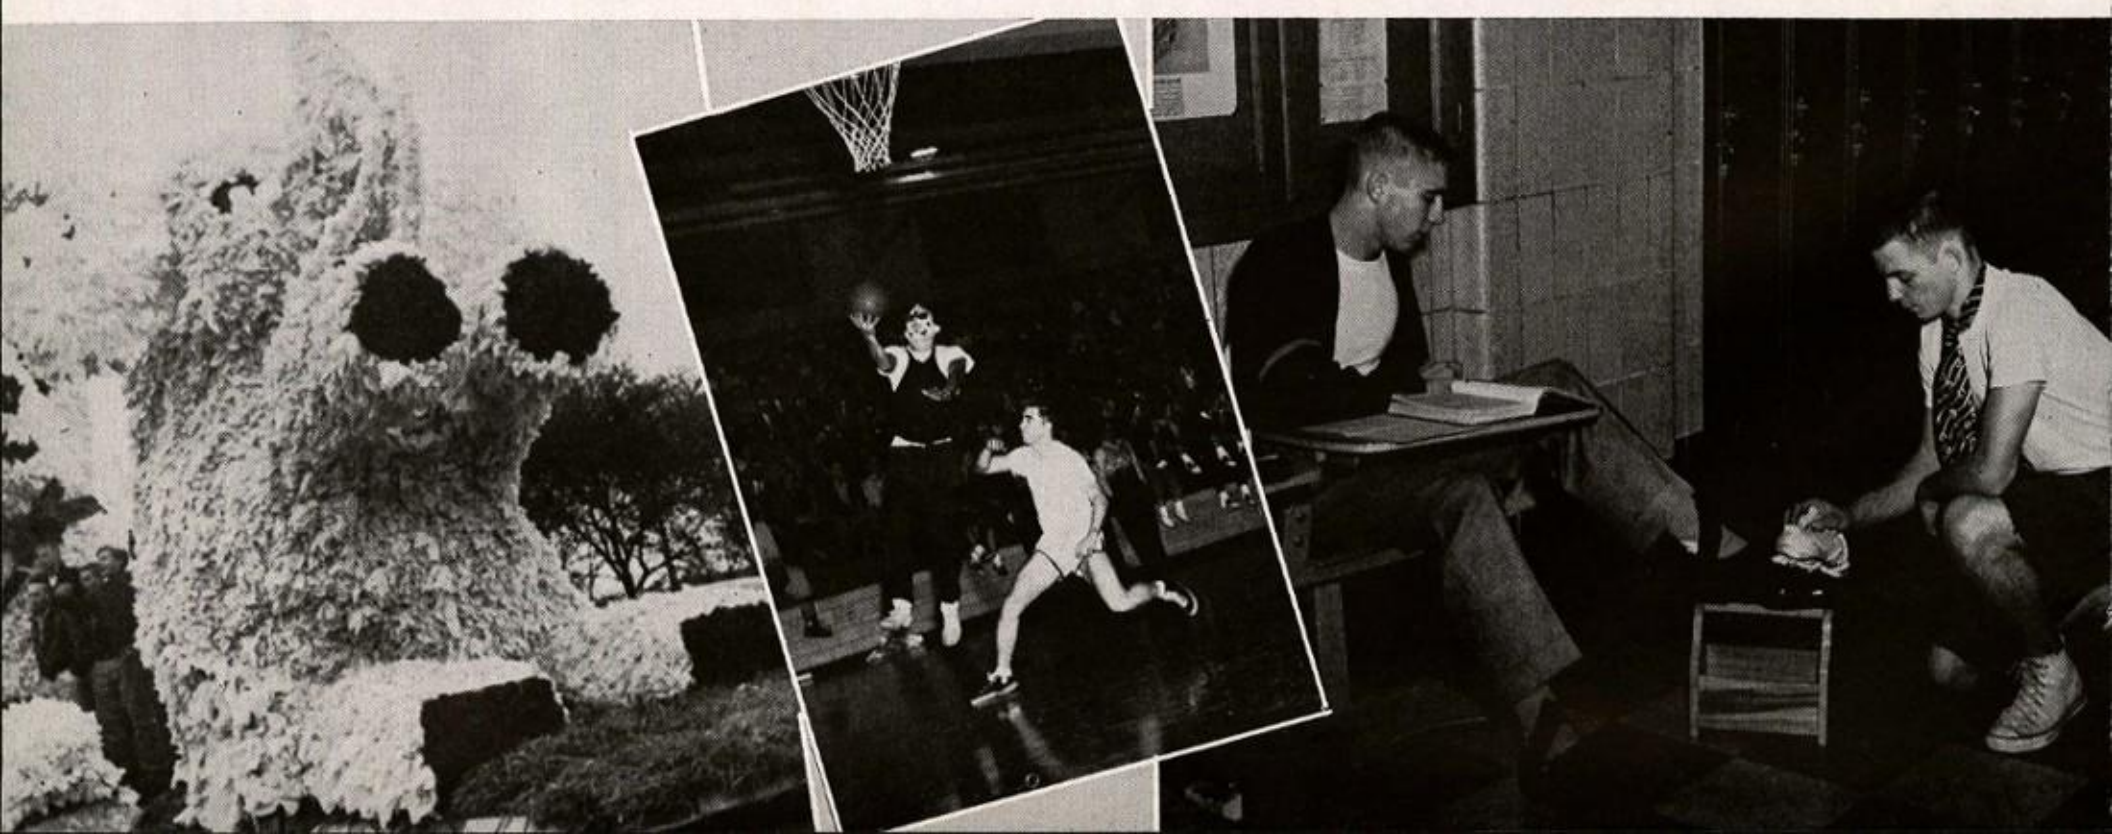
"N" Club Offers Membership to Letter Winners . . .

"N" Club membership is open to boys who have won a major letter in one of the sports. The goal of the "N" Club is to develop good sportsmanship, to impress the boys with the importance of clean living and thinking, and to encourage scholarship. This year the members again sponsored the "N" Club-Faculty game, proceeds of which were used to buy a camera for the school and to pay part of the cost of hospital expenses in a few of the very serious athletic accidents. Members of the "N" Club strive to promote cooperation between the athletic department and the faculty; this year the members served coffee to the teachers on exam days. The "N" Club meets every other Thursday with their sponsor, Mr. Jim Phipps.

This giant white elephant, made by members of the "N" Club, captured first place in the Homecoming parade.

Jumping high into the air, Mr. Sheahan drives in past Don Baker in the "N" Club-Faculty basketball game.

"Brother, can you spare a dime?" Correct attire for the "N" Club initiate is modeled by Bob Blowers as he humbles himself before "N" Club member Bob Petersen.



Varsity cheerleaders Linda Morse, Sandy Bruening, Anna Otiepka, Janet Piper, Caryl Bristol, and Jo Ann Lotz pause during a practice session for one of the big home game pep assemblies.

"Hold that line!" Varsity cheerleaders Sandy Bruening, Jo Ann Lotz, Linda Morse, Caryl Bristol, Janet Piper, and Anna Otiepka wait the outcome of a crucial play during the Morton game.

We Cheered Them on to Victory . . .

The Nilehi cheerleaders and the newly-organized Pep Club proudly boast that the "spirit yell" fits Niles better than any other school cheer. Through the efforts of these two groups, the enthusiasm of the student body was brought to its all-time high.

During the football and basketball seasons, Monday and Wednesday afternoons found the cheerleaders practicing after school with Miss Shirlee Wilson, sponsor. After a practice session of polishing new yells and reviewing old ones, a business meeting was held to plan the pep assemblies and take care of the organization's business. This year, for the first time at Niles, the cheerleaders worked under a rotating captain system, giving each cheerleader an opportunity to organize the pep assemblies and take care of the cheers at the games.

At the annual winter Sports Banquet, the cheerleaders were presented with awards in appreciation of their efforts in keeping the spirit at Niles at its peak.

"Have you got that spirit?" Among the crowd, members of the Pep Club help the cheerleaders spark the enthusiasm of the spectators. Back Row: Janet Minors (sophomore class representative), Suellen Mills (freshman class representative), Barbara Neuman (treasurer). Front Row: Barbara Larson (vice-president), Claudia Joslyn (president), Mary Kohls (secretary).

Members of the Niles Varsity in 1954 never gave less than their best. Back Row: R. Hein, G. Mills, C. Wicker, D. Bach, L. Breden, J. Rice, J. Hagman, T. Pristash, B. Blowers, J. Febel, B. Reinger, R. With Autumn Comes Football . . .

Addressing the students at a pep assembly is the new head coach of the Trojans, Mike Basrak. Mr. Basrak came to Niles from Louisville, Kentucky.

Trojan fans were able to see definite improvement in the team of 1954. The offense made more touchdowns than Niles had ever scored before in the Suburban League, and the defense, although occasionally spotty, looked great at times during the season. Under their new coach, Mr. Basrak, Niles teams are building for better records in the future. This year's Trojans came closer to matching the scores of opponents, and many teams in the League found this year's eleven capable of hard fought games. Among the high spots of the year was the game won against Amundsen of the City League and the dubious distinction of finally scoring on New Trier.

Teams Disappointed . . .

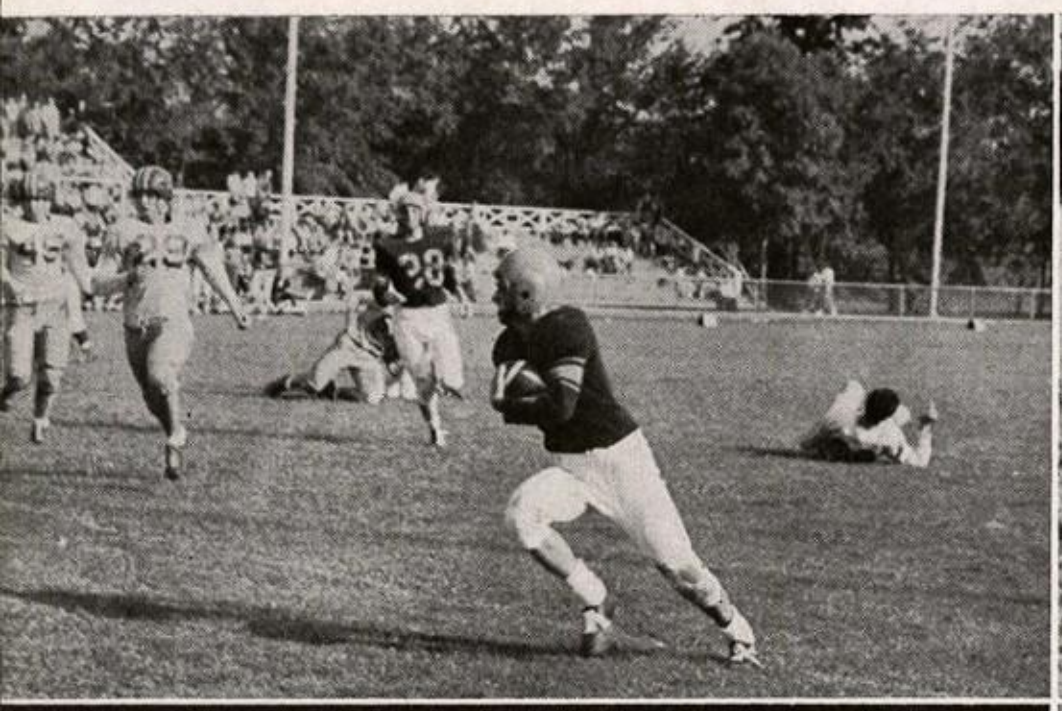
Bill Horning slips by a would-be tackler in the Proviso game. Dave Chevrier (3) and an unidentified Trojan also appear in the action.

Pounding out yardage against Evanston is "busting" Bill Barranco, Trojan halfback.

Shel Mikkelson, All-Suburban end, whirls to run after catching a pass in the Oak Park game. Bill Kuchar speeds past to head interference.



Clare Reynolds, Niles frosh-soph quarterback, fades to pass as Ron Korsan heads downfield during the Highland Park game.

The frosh-soph season was remarkably like that of the varsity in that they won their only game against a non-league foe, Amundsen of the City League.

We Cheered our Teams on . . .

Trojan rooters can be justly proud of a very fine varsity basketball team. Coached by Mr. Sheahan, they ended the season with a record of 7 and 7 in the Suburban League and an all over record of 12 wins and 9 losses. The success of the team was due in no small part to "Buckets" Karnatz who led the Suburban League scorers and set a new league record of 336 points. Karnatz was picked on the Daily News, Herald American, Tribune, and Sun-Times all-star teams of the area. The team needed five men to win as it did, and Dave Winchester, Rog Peterson, Dave Chevrier, Shel Mikkelson, and Jim Elliott gave Niles fans reason to be proud of the whole team during the season. High spots of the year were an upset win over Morton, a third place trophy at the Kankakee Christmas Tournament, and a Regional win over a Proviso quintet which had beaten Niles twice during the regular season.

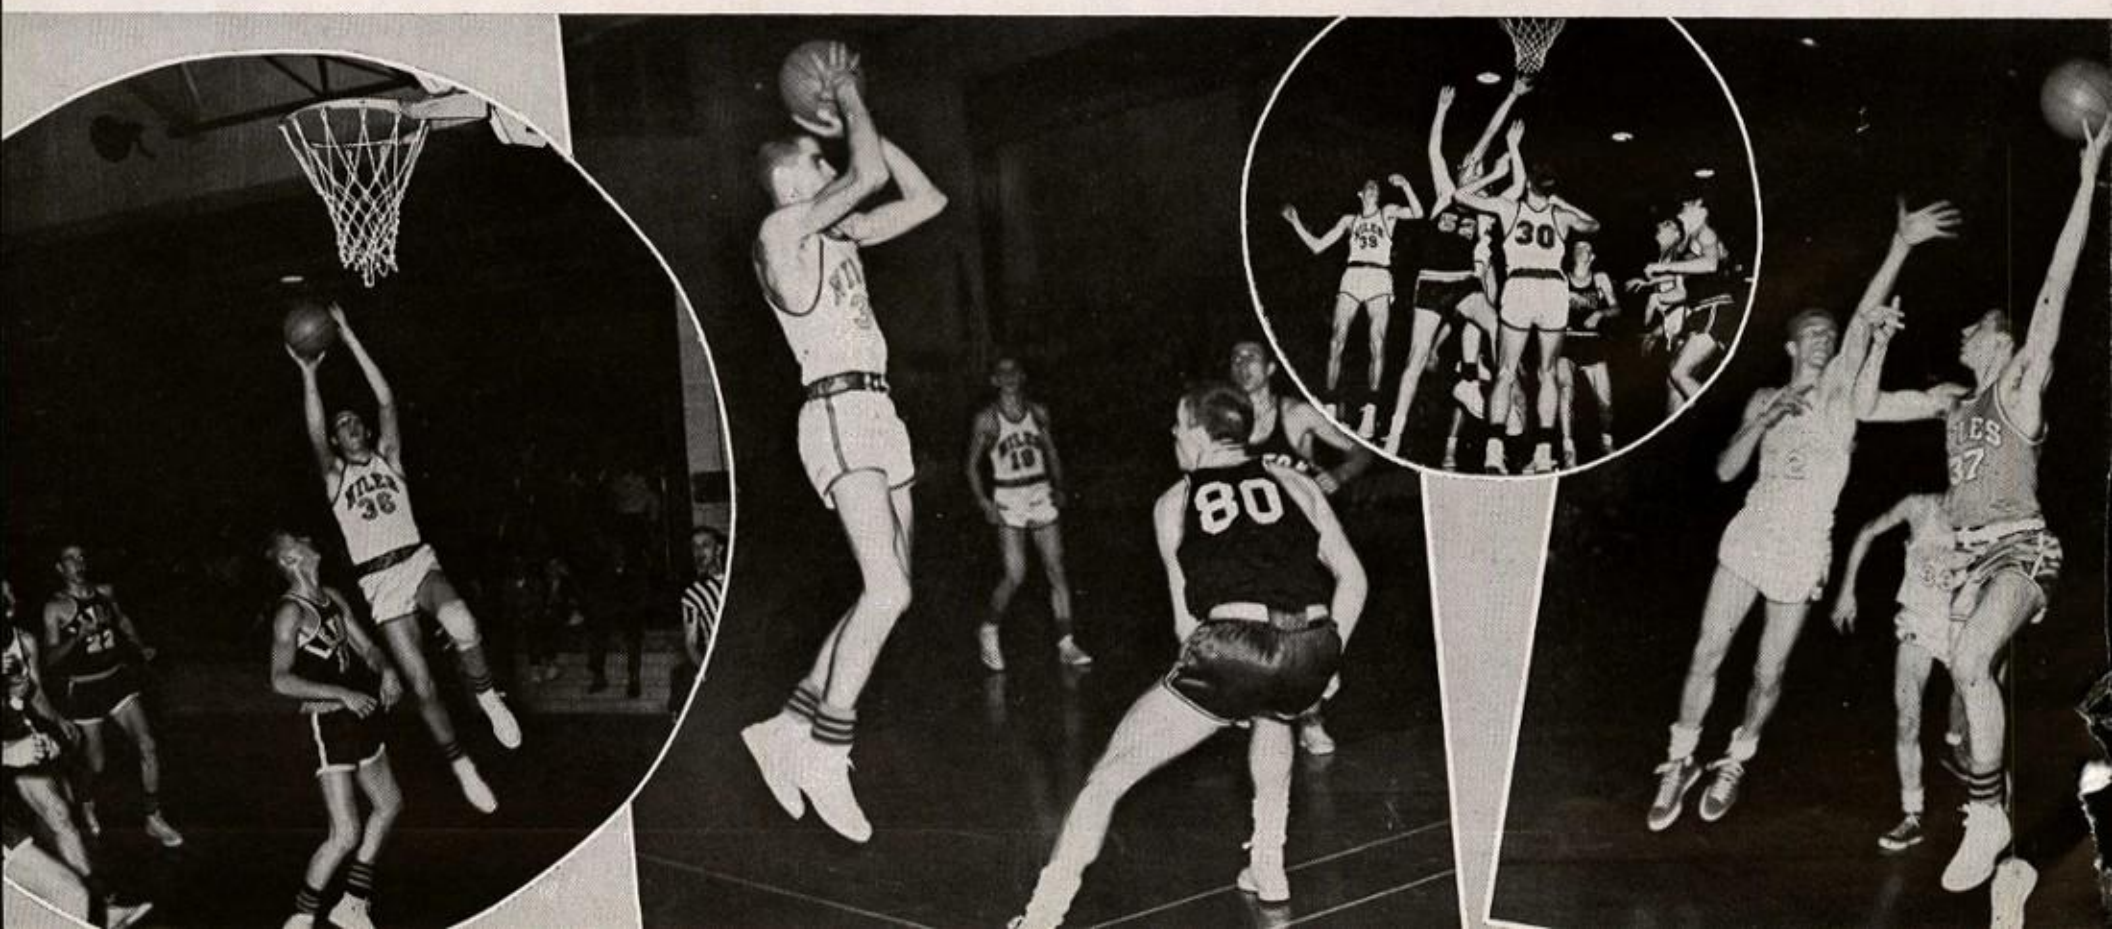
Kim Stevely drives in to score in the opening game of the year against Leyden.

Shooting one of his popular from-the-side jump shots is Dave Winchester, the ace rebounder for Niles this past season. The victim in this shot is Morton.

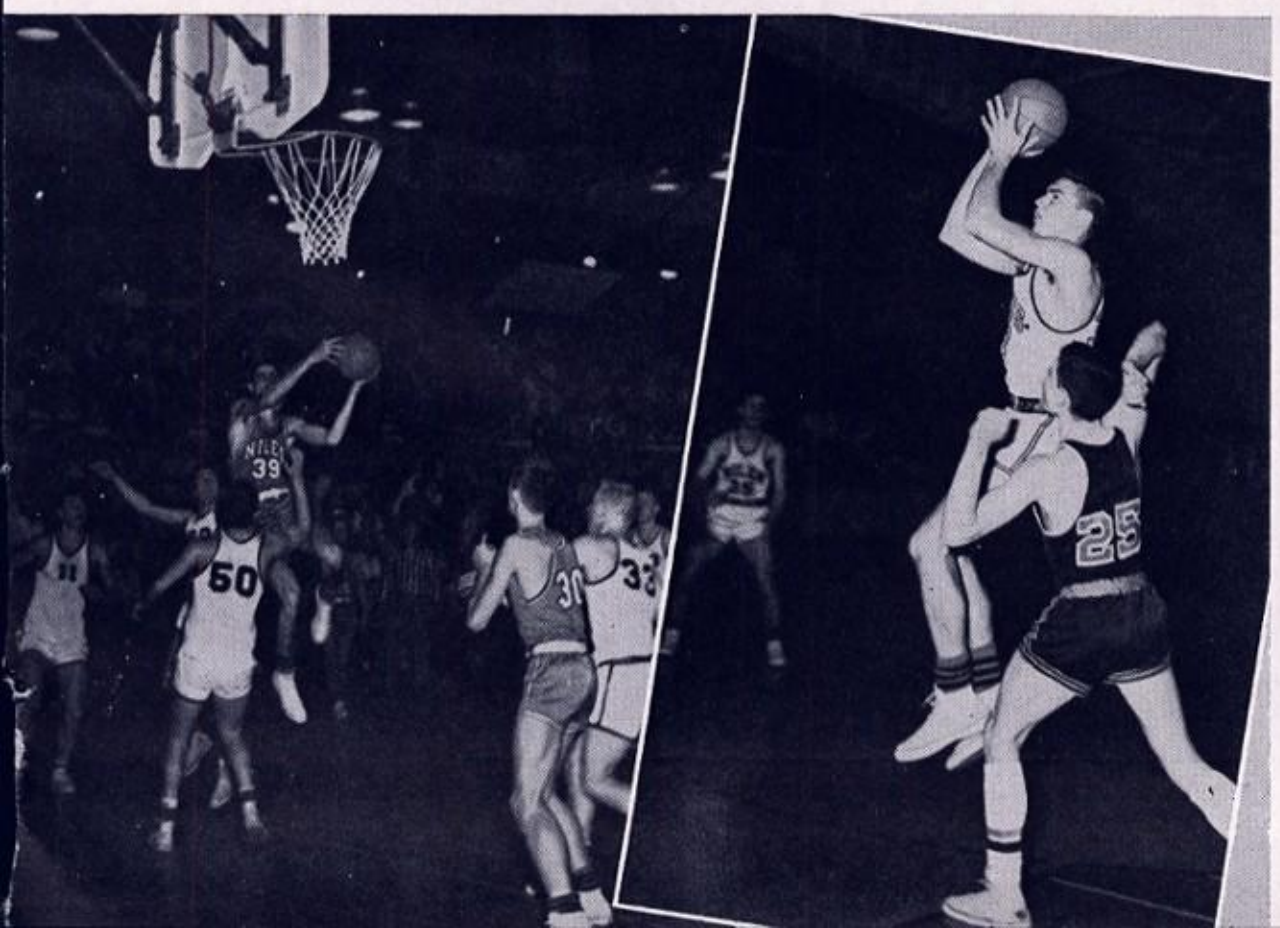
Niles and Oak Park fight it out under the boards at the Regionals. Niles players are Rog Peterson (30), Dave Winchester (39), and Joel Febel, with number obscured by Oak Park player.

Unstoppable! That's about the only word that can be used for the famous hook shot of Al Karnatz, captain and most valuable player of the Trojans. Here he shoots against Proviso on their court.



These boys represented us well throughout the basketball season and, win or lose, they were always out there fighting. Back Row: S. Mikkelson, R. Pasini, K. Stevely, R. Peterson, A. Karnatz, D. Winchester, D. Kaiser, D. Shea (Mgr.), and Mr. Sheahan (coach). Front Row: K. Walters, J. Elliott, B. Schofield, J. Febel, and D. Chevrier.

. . . Through the Basketball Season



Dave Winchester is literally surrounded by New Trier men as he attempts a jump shot. Fighting for position under the boards are Rog Peterson (30) and Al Karnatz (37).

Dave Tremaine of the Evanston Wildkits pulls back abruptly to keep from fouling Al Karnatz as he springs from the free-throw lane.

As our Improvement on the Hardwood . . .

Having stolen the ball, Jim Elliott is all alone as he lays two points through the netting at Oak Park.

Fighting for a rebound against the Waukegan Bulldogs on their court are Niles frosh - soph players Hal Neimer (number not visible), Rog Jones (6), and Larry VanMersberger (21).

Al Karnatz, captain of Trojan cage team, grimaces as he attempts a shot over Waukegan defender on our home court.

Larry VanMersbergen meets a lot of resistance as he puts the ball up in the New Trier frosh-soph game.

Going high in the air to pull down rebound in the Regionals against Oak Park Huskies is the Niles center, Dave Winchester.

Overshadowed by a successful varsity season was the very fine work of the junior varsity. With a final record of seven and three, it can be stated that they were plenty good. The win over New Trier after having lost the first time they played was the most exciting point in the year. High scorers were Joel Febel and Ken Walter.

. . . Becomes Noticeable to Fans, Old and New

The Niles basketball team with the best record this year was the Junior Varsity, a team composed solely of juniors. They ended up with a seven won and three lost record. Left to right: K. Walters, G. Grapplers Hit Winning Streak . . .

The story of the varsity wrestling team was a success story this year for the first time. After losing the first three matches, the team visibly improved and near the end of the season won four in a row, the longest winning streak the school's team has ever had. The record was eight wins, nine losses, and one tie. The high spots of the year were a tie with a rugged Glenbrook squad, a fine showing against New Trier (even though it was a losing effort), a two point victory over Evanston, the first shutout the team has ever dealt another school, and a very interesting match against the Kentucky School for the Blind. Constant winners were Dale Wright, Laurie Salamon, Lenny Miresse, and Bill Albert. Jim Esbrook placed second in the sectional and wrestled downstate. As most of the team were underclassmen, the chances for a winning squad next year seems good.

. . . As Tanksters Set New Records

Starting out slowly this year, the Varsity swimming team increased in strength as the season went along. The swimming team lost nine meets in a row, but they wound up the season by beating Morton, 40 to 35, and by whipping DeKalb 49 to 26.

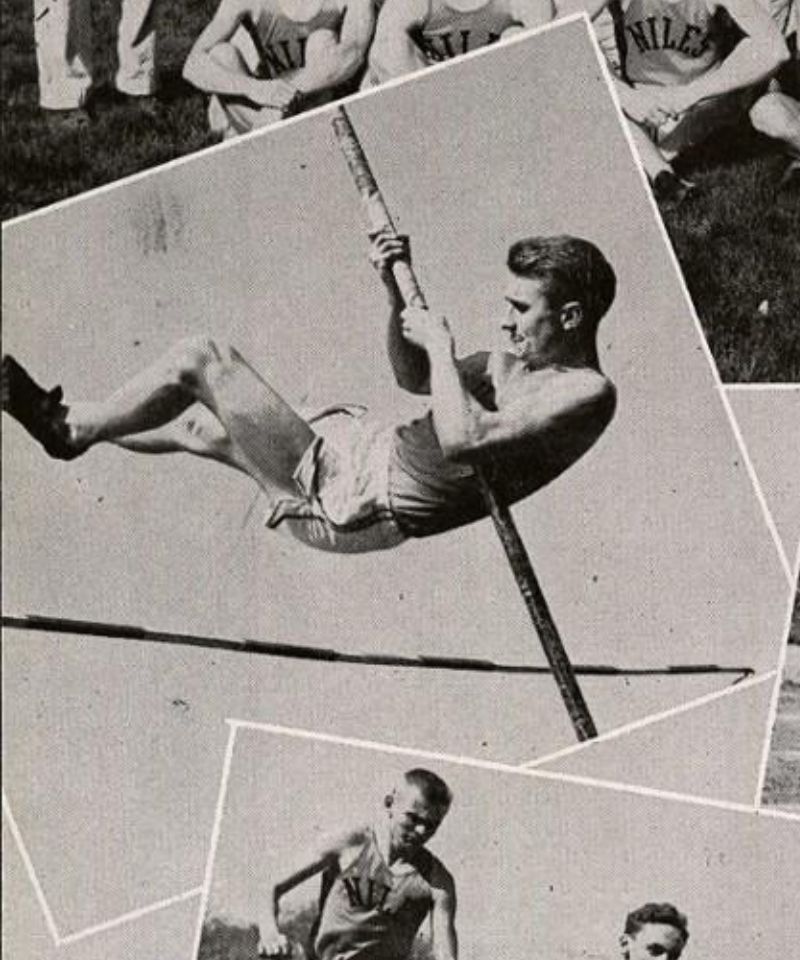
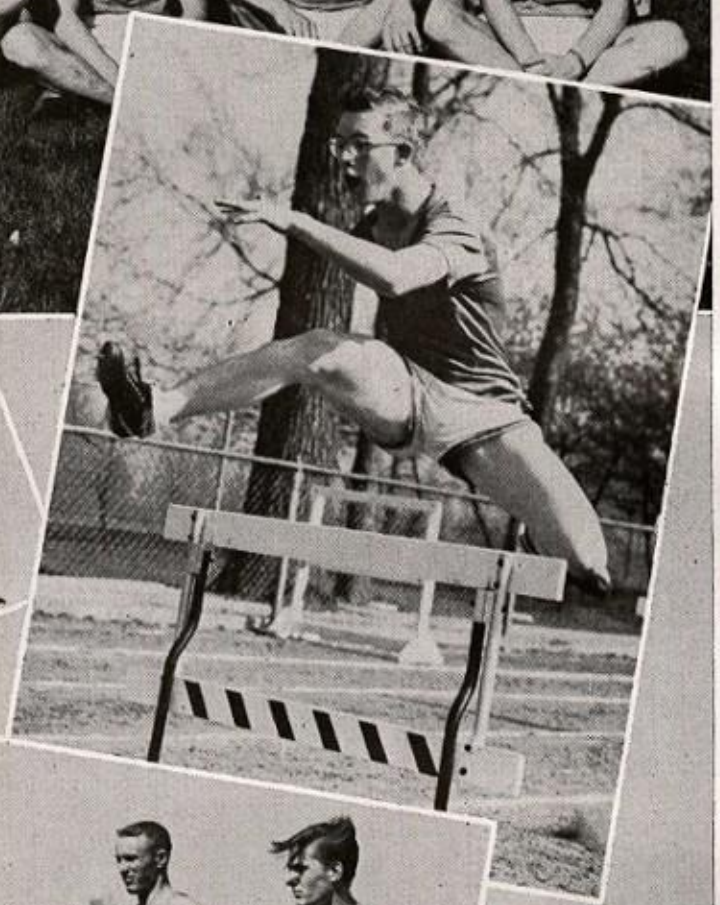
Sefick, S. Baron, T. Baumann, D. Blatt. Front Row: C. Gunsaullus, D. Bach, K. Manaugh, B. Horning, B. Debes, J. Ravencroft.

The Trojan track team has been working very hard. Although outnumbered, they lost to Waukegan by only eight points. (Waukegan 60, Niles 52.) The Trojans also took third place in a three team meet. (Morton 65⅓, N. Chicago 46⅓, Niles 33⅓.)



With a perfect sense of timing and balance, Lou Sefick clears the bar in pole vaulting.



Stretching his legs, Richard Pankey takes the low hurdles without breaking stride.

Nilehi's varsity mile relay team, B. Debes, B. Horning, J. Ravencroft, and K. Manaugh, took first place at Palatine and broke the record by eleven seconds.

Cross Country

To run the two mile cross country course takes determination. The cross country team had a little tough luck this year, but a great number of them will be returning next year. Back Row: R. Ablin, D. "You're Out!" . . . It's Baseball

The Phippsmen got off to a slow start, but they hit their stride by beating Palatine 13-1 and licking Oak Park 20-1. The Evanston double header began a five game winning streak. With outstanding hitters like Don Baker and pitchers like Ken Walters, this team may go all the way down state!

Carol Schweger (treasurer), Karen Holmberg (secretary), and Carol Larsen (vice-president), discuss with their president, Bertie Jorgesen, plans for their girls' Suburban Playday held in February.

For Sports-Minded Girls . . .

Our G. A. A., which began in 1939, has grown to be the largest girls' club in the school under the direction of Miss Helen Heitman, Miss Betty Schmidt, and Miss Shirlee Wilson. Through its many activities, 330 girls learn good sportsmanship, teamwork, and the sport skills.

G. A. A. members elect four officers each year: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. These girls, with former officers and seniors on the board, read applications from girls who wish to become board members. From this information the new board is selected. Each girl then becomes the manager of one sport, assuming leadership in organizing that activity.

In addition to sports, the G. A. A. also sponsors three of the year's main social events: Mistletoe Magic, the Christmas dance; Broomstick Bounce, the jean jump; Hawaiian Enchantment, the turnabout. This year two playdays were held at which times girls from selected schools came to the Nilehi gym to enjoy a day of sports. In this way G. A. A. members meet new girls and learn new ideas.

G. A. A. board members gather to make final plans before setting to work on their Christmas dance, "Mistletoe Magic." Back Row: M. Kamin (square dance), K. Kivimagi (golf), E. Sahs (soccer), B. Reedy (horseback riding), R. Simmons (publicity), N. Phillips (softball), E. Corr (soccer), B. Duckers (tennis), C. Constantine (modern dance), F. Marling (swim club), J. Sodeman (tumbling), D. Platt (basketball). Front Row: K. Holmberg (secretary), B. Halvorsen (points and awards), C. Drake (basketball), D. Baumann (volleyball), D. Cutro (volleyball), C. Schweger (treasurer), C. Larsen (vice-president), Bertie Jorgesen (president).

Each year two girls are selected to spend one week at G. A. A. camp in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin where they join with representatives from schools throughout the state. Here they receive new ideas for the organizing of their club and the improving of activities offered. Playing together, they make new friends. Bertie Jorgesen and Dona Baumann, G. A. A. camp representatives, read over the material they saved from camp.

Once a week the junior gym leaders, under the direction of Miss Helen Heitmann, learn the correct way to officiate and to instruct in sport activities in the classroom and after school in the G. A. A. The rule books as studied here are very important. Back Row: L. Thinggaard, S. Howard, J. Gutowsky, P. Whitesell, B. Duckers, E. Sahs, P. Holms. Front Row: J. Klemmer, B. Rohner, K. Holmberg, D. Cutro, S. Jacobsson.

As a G. A. A. member, a girl receives points for each sport in which she participates. Having achieved 75 points, a girl receives her minor letter. The major letter as earned by these girls was worth 150 points. The girls are proud of their accomplishment. Back Row: J. Nelson, K. Holmberg, D. Baumann, S. Jacobsson. Second Row: K. Krause, C. Larsen, B. Jorgesen, B. Duckers. Front Row: C. Schweger, B. Halvorsen, E. Greiner.

Junior and senior swim leaders are trained to give swimming instructions. Each week, under the leadership of Miss Shirlee Wilson, the girls learn the correct techniques. Back Row: S. Bastow, G. Harrison, A. Wharton, D. Rance, E. Greiner, C. Larsen, L. Himmler (seniors), F. Kadins, C. Constantine, N. Harris. Seated: B. Busch, F. Marling, M. Hendrickson, M. Dell, N. Keppeler, D. Payne, D. Peterson, J. Renberg, B. Birmingham (juniors).

Audrey Bazzone plays it smart as she staggers to the flagpole with a mouth full of water trying to do her part in washing it during G. A. A. informal initiation. Kari Kivimagi gives her a helping hand.

Linda Ward and Barbara Wolff, all dressed up in their "costume" for the G. A. A. informal initiation, walk across the hockey field back to back with a ball between them.

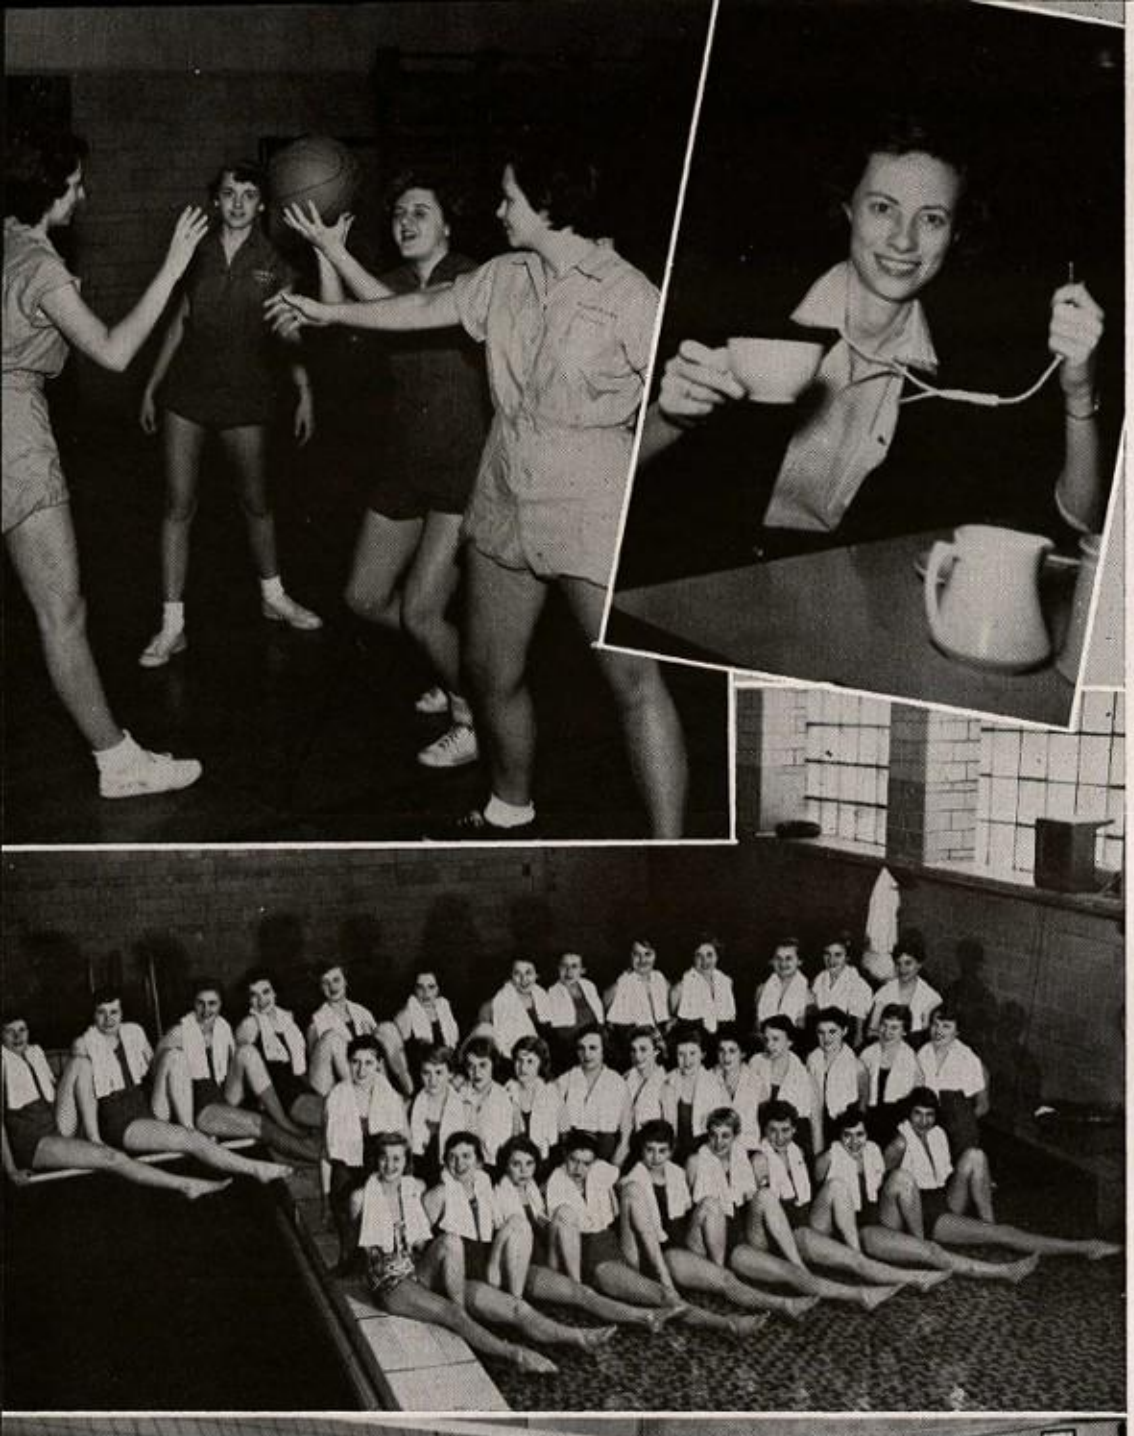
The informal initiation held in the girls' sport field is a dreaded day for the initiates. Odd clothes, straight hair and no make-up adds to the fun. S. Elster, J. Godell, M. Colamaras, B. Davidson, initiates, and C. Schweger, manager, laugh as C. Janis "mugs" for the camera.

G. A. A. Provides Recreation . . .

Cleaning up is just as much fun as playing where there is plenty of help. Carol Larsen washes dishes while Roberta Simmons dries them for Barb Duckers and Mrs. Mueller to put away.

Kitty Mueller imitates her mother, Mrs. Mueller, as she duck walks across the room during the parents' playnight held on March 8.

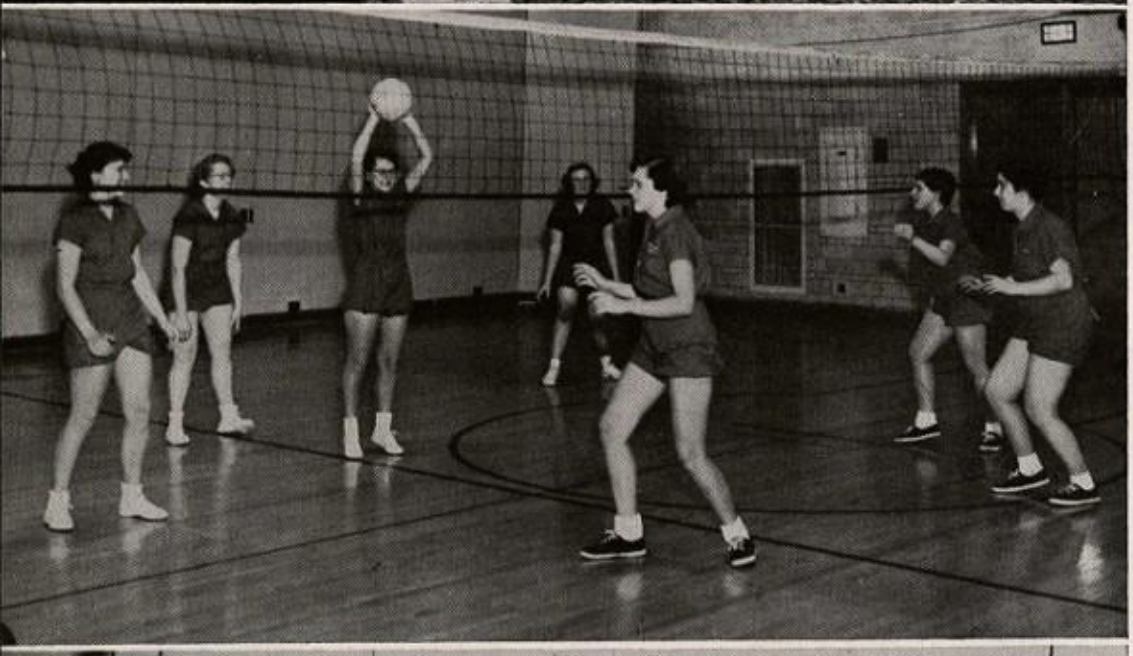
"Who says a parent is too old to play these games?" Mrs. Robert Holmberg proves she is not as she carefully places the pins down during an obstacle relay race.



Basketball is offered twice a week during the winter months. Girls from all classes come out and participate on eight different teams. During one of the games Pat Schwandt shoots for the basket while her opponents, Diane Ritter and Carol Asbiornsen, try to stop her. Carol Anderson, teammate, stands by for the rebound.

Miss Helen Heitmann sips her coffee and relaxes in the Nilehi cafeteria after the parent's playnight activities came to an end.

Young mermaids of the Ripplettes Swim Club can be seen every Thursday after school practicing ballet legs, dolphins, and kips for their water show, Flight 16, which was held on March 31 and April 1. Back Row: S. Bastow, G. Harrison, C. Drake, D. Stiska, B. Farwell, B. Birmingham, C. Schweger, J. Gutowsky, D. Payne, D. Peterson, M. Kohls, B. Stryker, A. Blott. Second Row: F. Marling, L. Morse, J. Lotz, N. Harris, C. Joslyn, M. Dell, J. Renberg, S. Olenick, C. Constantine, M. Hendrickson, K. Kent. Front Row: A. Wharton, C. Larsen, C. Callisen, D. Rance, E. Greiner, C. Onsrud, L. Himmler, J. O'Beirne.



Set ups and serves are practiced before each game during volleyball, a winter sport. Marcia Wesley taps the ball to her opponents, Anna Marie Czerwonka, Iris Sonkin, and Linda Ward while her teammates, Jo Ann Otiepka, Betty Matayka, and Jean Dunn get ready for the return.

Golf, an individual sport, begins early in the spring with indoor practice. Practicing to improve their strokes Lenore McCollach, Debbie Rotholtz, Anne Collins, Cecilia Belgarbo, and Joyce DeZutter yell "Fore!" as they tee off from the mats.

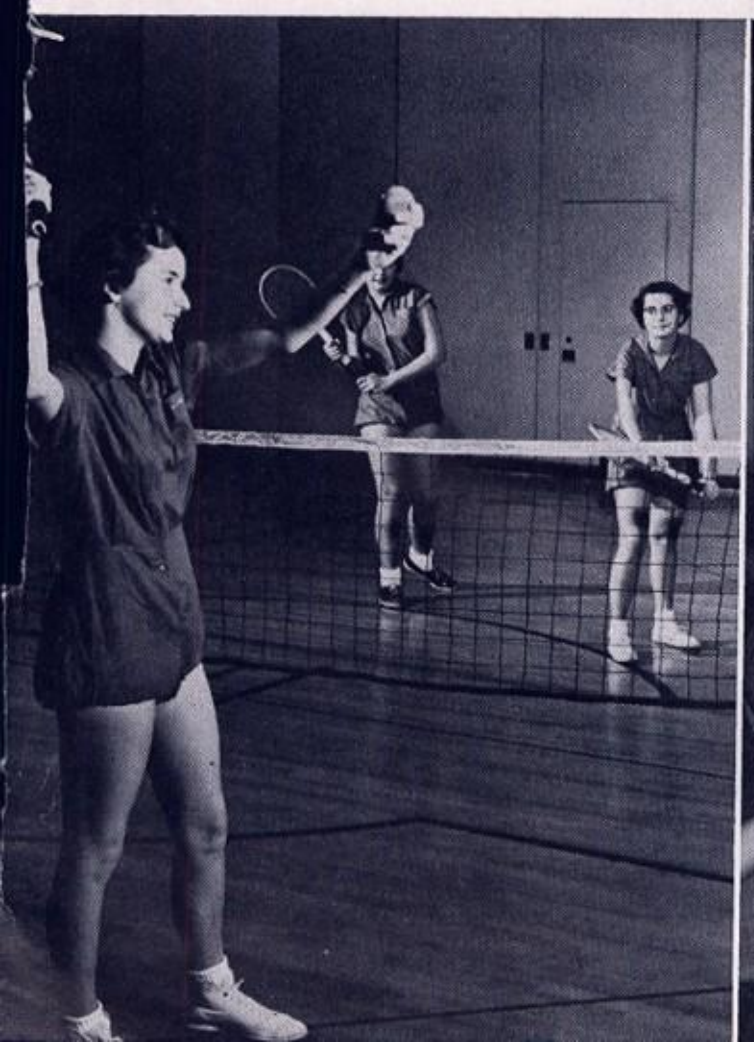
"Look, I'm ahead!" shouts Marie Hepner as she shows her teammates Shirley Johnson, Beatrice Schladt, and Shirley Ahrens her score at the bowling banquet held at Hans Goodrich's Restaurant on May 11. These girls received trophies for being high team. Beatrice Schladt received a trophy for the highest average.

G. A. A. Develops Leisure Time Interests . . .

Each G. A. A. girl must recite the following pledge when she is initiated: "I promise to uphold the ideals of the Girls' Athletic Association by promoting interest in athletics and the out of doors; by living so that I may be healthy and strong; by making good sportsmanship a constant factor in my conduct."

To achieve these objectives and develop leisure time interests a wide range of individual and team sports are offered. After school in the gym in the winter and out on the playfield in the fall and spring—three hundred girls develop skills and increase their knowledge of the rules of basketball, volleyball, soccer, field hockey, dancing, swimming, tumbling, golf, tennis, bowling and horsebackriding.

"Fifteen love is the score!" Wendy Racine ries for another as she serves to her opponents Pat Czerwonka and Lynn Racine. Tennis, an individual sport, is offered during the fall season.



Handstands, flips, and hanging from the parallel bars are routine stunts in tumbling. Barbara Wolff spots over Betty Farwell as she goes up into a headstand. Phyllis Roubal swings easily from the new ladder.

Acknowledgements . . .

The final page in the 1955 Reflections seems to be the appropriate place for acknowledgements to those who helped make this yearbook possible. Our thanks go to Mrs. Mary Ida McGuire who as sponsor guided the staff and contributed to the book itself, to Root Studios of Chicago who did the photography for the book, to the King Co. of Berwyn, Ill., who prepared the dummy and published the book, and to the typing classes of Mr. F. Poor and Miss Ada Immel.

This year our goal was to make Reflections an ever better yearbook than it has been in previous years. We wanted to include in it pictures and copy that would tell the story of Nilehi and of the student body and faculty within its walls. This meant many changes and different ideas. This year for the first time we changed the size of our yearbook from 7¾" x 10½" to 9" x 12". Naturally when new and different ideas such as these appear there are bound to be differences of opinion. We know we cannot please everyone, but the staff has striven to create what we think is a yearbook best representing Nilehi.
